Terra Linda 'Totally Opposes' Humane Society Plan

Terra Linda Community Services District, supported by a phalanx of Terra Linda residents, will appear before the San Rafael Planning Commission at 7:30 o'clock tonight expressing "total opposition" to a proposed Marin County Humane Society animal shelter on the edge of their community.

Last night, four officials of the humane society appeared before a special meeting called by the district's directors. Some 40 persons were present in Hoffman School to hear them explain what is being planned for a 15-acre site on the hillside overlooking Freitas Parkway.

Frederic D. Kerr, society president; Mel L. Morse, executive director; Leland H. Jordan, its legal counsel, and Eugene Crawford, its architect, described the plan.

It calls for establishment of a large main building, about 50 feet from the back yards of homes along Oleander Drive, to house administrative offices, plus public areas where people would leave or claim animals, food preparation facilities and a crematorium.

Animal holding pens would be toward the center of the property. The animal "runs" would stretch away from the homes.

Crawford reported architectural plans call for a complete soundproofing of all animal noises including, he said, serious consideration of putting all dog runs indoors. There is no small problem, he said.

A second building would be a small "community use" structure near the entrance to the property off Orcutt Street. This would be available for the society's educational program and for meetings of public organizations such as cat clubs and dog training groups.

A third structure would be a small barn well back on the property where large animals such as cows and horses would be impounded.

Crawford said the buildings would be "more like a country club or a large house" than a public building. He described the area as planned "like a 15 acre park." It would include trails and small holding areas back in the property for birds and other animals.

Jordan took the "blame" for filing the application with the San Rafael planners before informing Terra Lindans about the plan. He said he felt that was the proper way, but that the society had "no intention of railroading the plan through." The city planners must approve a use permit before a shelter can be established.

Morse described the plan-

Exercise In Patriotism For Schools Urged

State Education Board Updating Rules To '61 Law

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A rule permitting substitution of "daily patriotic exercises" for the pledge of allegiance to the flag now required in California public schools was proposed by the Education Department today.

The amendment, offered to bring administrative rules into conformity with a 1961 state law, will be presented to the Board of Education Nov. 9 in Los Angeles.

NO SUGGESTION

The department did not suggest what form the patriotic exercises should take, but said a flag raising ceremony or singing of the national anthem might be used.

The exact form probably will be left to the individual school districts, but the board could propose various exercises.

The State Board of Education has required a daily pledge of allegiance to the flag for more than two years in all elementary and high schools.

A 1961 law sponsored by Assemblyman Louis Francis (R-San Mateo) substitutes "daily patriotic exercises" for all public schools through junior college. It specifies, however, that the flag salute satisfies the requirement.

The law, part of the education code, takes legal precedence over the board's earlier rule, which is in the administrative code.

MIGHT AMEND

The department's recommendation said the board "might appropriately, though somewhat redundantly, amend its rule to strike out its required daily flag salute."

The words "or other patriotic exercise" would be substituted.

The department noted that the bill was amended four times by the 1961 legislature. The second amendment struck out the requirement of a flag salute.

"It must be concluded," the department said, "that the legislature intentionally gave local school boards latitude in determining whether the daily patriotic exercise should be the pledge of allegiance to the flag or whether it should take some other form."

Hospital Faults To Cost County $150,000 In Aid

Marin County is faced with loss of $150,000 in federal-state payments yearly as result of disqualification of the county hospital from expected payments under the new "medical aid for the aged" program, it was learned today.

The program is to become effective next Jan. 1 so the loss for the present fiscal year would be $75,000, but $150,000 thereafter unless corrective measures are taken —possibly construction of a new hospital.

Notification has been received that the hospital's failure to comply with repeated state orders will prevent it from being among the facilities eligible to receive new funds counted on in compilation of the 1961-62 budget.

SACRAMENTO LETTER

The bad news came by letter from the state Bureau of Hospitals of the Department of Public Health in Sacramento. It was expected to come up for discussion by the county board of supervisors this afternoon.

For years the Department of Public Health has been raising questions about structural safety and other aspects of Marin's county hospital in Lucas Valley.

The medical aid for the aged program has written-in standards, to be adopted next week by the state Social Welfare Board, and thereafter binding as soon as they are filed with the secretary of state.

The standards apply to hospitals or kindred institutions in which are accommodated aged persons receiving care for illness, defined as lasting more than 30 days.

45 PERSONS

About 45 such persons are now at the county hospital. They have been counted on as source of payments estimated by Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell today as running to about $150,000 annually.

But the standards will read that such an institution must be licensed, with no proceedings for revocation pending, and moreover "must furnish evidence that items ordered corrected by the State Department of Public Health have in fact been corrected."

U.N. DELEGATES DEPLORE USSR PLAN FOR BOMB

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—A parade of delegates today deplored Russia's advertised 50-megaton explosion and all other nuclear tests but failed to reach any conclusion on how to stop them.

The General Assembly's main political committee heard a series of speeches on two resolutions. The meeting was adjourned until tomorrow with no action taken.

One of the resolutions, sponsored by eight nations, calls for a "solemn appeal" to Russia to call off its announced plan to explode a bomb equivalent in power to 50 million tons of TNT.

Soviet Blast Called Crime Against World

LONDON (UPI) — The Western world today condemned Russia's explosion of its gigantic super bomb as a crime against humanity. But much of the Communist world still was kept in the dark about the blast.

Members of the Western diplomatic corps in Moscow planned to import their own milk and meat rather than risk radioactive contamination. But the average Russian himself had no idea of the extent of the Soviet test series.

Japan reacted with jitters to announcements the Russians had exploded a bomb 2,500 times more powerful than the ones that obliterated Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

HORRIBLE

India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru condemned the Soviet blast as a "horrible thing" which would contaminate not only the atmosphere but the minds of man. Many other neutrals remained silent.

One of the strongest protests came from Rome where the Socialist International, representing 70 million persons in 43 nations, called the super bomb a "monstrous crime against humanity, a brutal and cynical action which threatens mankind as a whole."

SOCIALIST CENSURE

The Socialist vote of censure came after British Labor Party leader Hugh Gaitskell said the world felt "deep disgust and cold anger" at the blast which "unmasked still further the true character . . . of world Communism."

The Mexico City newspaper Ovaciones printed a cartoon labeled "Fourth World War" and showing two groups of cavemen fighting with sticks and stones.

A close look revealed the cartoon to be a commentary on nuclear fallout: Some of the men have two heads, others three arms and some four legs.

State Officials Urge Group Atom Shelters

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two California civil defense chiefs declared today that developing group shelters against nuclear fallout was more practical than trying to encourage individual family shelters.

But Alan Jonas, director of the California State Disaster Office, declared that existing structures would provide fallout protection for no more than 15 per cent of California's population.

BASEMENT SPACE

Jonas, appearing before the State Senate interim committee on local governments, estimated that protection could be provided for up to 85 per cent of New York state's population because construction there affords far more basement and underground space.

Robert G. Efteland, acting director of the Office of Civil Defense Region 7 headquarters at Santa Rosa, said federal policy was shifting toward mass protection from radioactive fallout.

"This is a massive undertaking that affects every citizen in the United States," Efteland said.

"There is no question that this will be stepped up in view of the critical look the Department is taking now at civil defense," he declared.

'UNDEMOCRATIC'

Jones opposed individual family or home shelters. "There's something undemocratic about this individual shelter program providing only for those who can afford them," he declared.

He estimated as many as a thousand shelters now are being sold to individual families.

But Jonas contended group shelters can do the protection job better and at lower cost. He reported group shelter cost estimates by Stanford Research Institute and the Navy Radiological Laboratory at Hunters Point ranged from $50 to $75 a person.

Nicasio Water Tied Into System; Water Line Drops At Lake In Novato

Marin Municipal Water District today tied the three-billion-gallon storage of Nicasio Reservoir into its distribution system, ending any threat of a shortage before the rainy season.

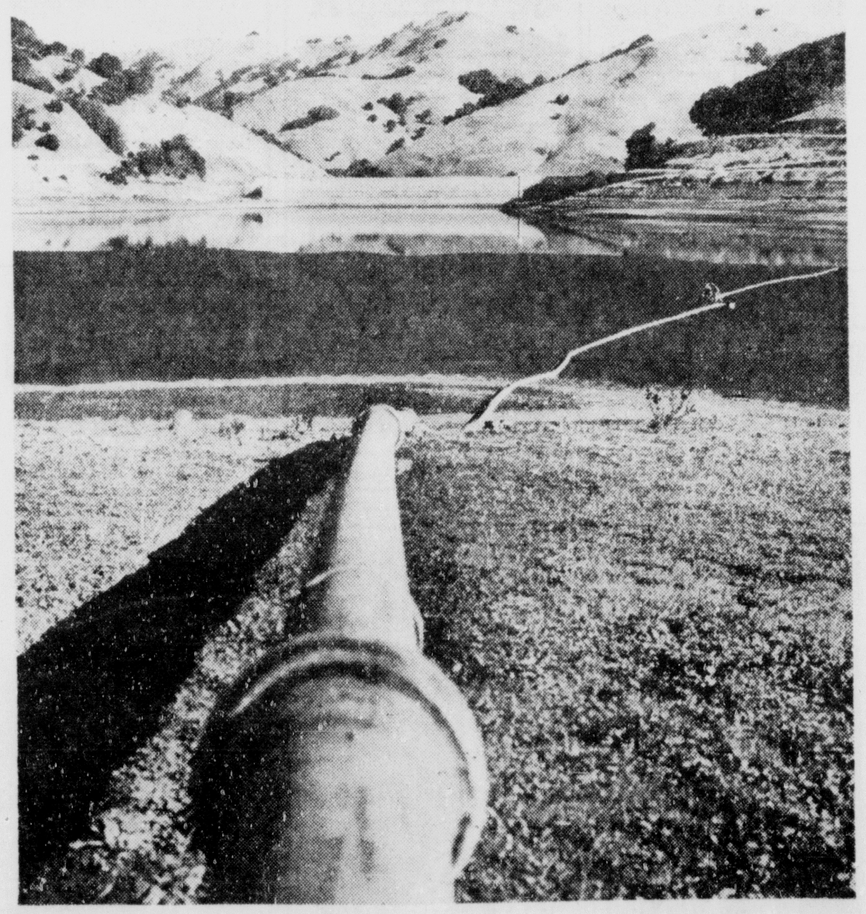

Meanwhile, delivery of Russian River water to North Marin Water District through its new Petaluma pipeline remained nearly two months away.

Pumps at the new Tocaloma pumping station, which can lift Nicasio Reservoir water to Kent Lake in case it is needed in other parts of the Marin Municipal District's system, were connected this morning and began lifting water this afternoon.

The flow is by gravity to Tocaloma but the water must be lifted by pump to flow from there either to Kent Lake or over White's Hill to the northern part of the district.

Nicasio Reservoir itself was completed in time to catch last season's rainfall. This supply has been untouched this summer as the district completed pipelines to tie the new reservoir into its distribution system.

North Marin Water District, meanwhile, reported it still has about 163 million gallons of water in Stafford Reservoir, its only source, although the water line is far down the sloping banks. The district plans a ceremony on Oct. 28 signaling completion of its 10-mile pipeline to Petaluma, which in December is to start carrying Russian River water. A link of the line north of Petaluma must be awaited before the river water can flow to North Marin.

WATER'S 'WAY OUT THERE—A long hose line extends from end of pipe serving Indian Valley Golf Club to diminished water supply in North Marin Water District's Stafford Reservoir. Pump may be seen midway out hose line to lift water into the pipeline.

Brusatori Back On Job —Feels Fine

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court, who returned to the bench yesterday for the first time since his Aug. 7 heart attack, said today he feels "just fine."

However, on doctors' orders, Judge Brusatori will handle only non-jury cases for the next couple of weeks. After that, he said he hopes to carry a full load including jury cases.

The 58-year-old judge spent time in the oxygen tent after the Aug. 7 attack.

"The best therapy I got was to be given the green light to come back to the courthouse," said the judge.

Voroshilov May 'Confess Sins'

MOSCOW (UPI) — Nikolai Shvernik, at 81 the oldest Bolshevik of them all, joined his younger comrades today in demanding that old Bolshevik Vyacheslav M. Molotov and other members of the "anti-party" group be expelled from the Communist Party.

Informed sources said former President Kliment Voroshilov, 80, publicly humiliated yesterday, had asked for permission to address the 22nd Communist Party congress. They said he probably would "confess his errors" and ask for forgiveness.

The congress, now engaged in condemning members of the anti-party group, is expected to take time out tomorrow to hear an address on Soviet foreign policy by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. He had been expected to speak today.

Russ Getting Fallout From Superbomb

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Radiation from Russia's superbomb fell on the Soviet Union today in a snowstorm but the United States will get most of it in "hot rains" next spring.

This was reported by Dr. Lester Machta, weather bureau expert on fallout patterns, who also said the first small amount of radiation from the 30 to 50-megaton blast would reach North America about Thursday or Friday.

U.S. Public Health Service officials said they did not expect a single 50-megaton nuclear bomb to raise radiation to the danger level.

Meanwhile, U.S. atomic experts said yesterday's detonation, biggest manmade explosion in history, may have been only a prelude to the 50-megaton blast Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev promised for Oct. 30 or 31.

One authority speculated that the Russians might set off a 50-megaton bomb at an altitude of 100 miles or so to check on the range at which an H-bomb blast in space could knock out a missile.

The fallout dropping on Russian Central Asia in a large snowstorm and heading toward North America is part of 5 per cent or less of the superbomb's radiation which will sift to the ground in the next three or four weeks.

The remaining 95 per cent, blown into the stratosphere, will be washed to earth in next spring's rain. The United States probably will get more of this "hot rain" than any other country.

Kennedy Planning Talk At Los Angeles Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy today scheduled a speech at a Democratic party dinner in Los Angeles Nov. 18.

Kennedy wired his acceptance of an invitation extended by "all the party leaders in California."

Taylor Ready To Report On S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor has decided on the broad outlines of the proposals he will make to President John F. Kennedy for swift action against the Communist threat to South Viet Nam's independence, a U.S. spokesman said today.

Taylor, Kennedy's special military adviser, met with South Viet Nam President Ngo Dinh Diem for two and a half hours in what was possibly their final business session.

GENERAL TERMS

The spokesman said the head of Kennedy's save Viet Nam mission and Diem "reviewed in very general terms the proposals to be made to President Kennedy" when Taylor returns to Washington, probably late this week

Earlier today the Socialist Union group in the National Assembly appealed for American troops to be sent to South Viet Nam.

Because the group generally follows the line set by Diem, its statement was considered possibly significant.

MAY BE CHANGE

The statement could indicate a change in Diem's position since last spring, when he reportedly told Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson he did not want U.S. troops here.

Since Johnson's visit the Communist Viet Cong have been mounting heavier and more widespread attacks and the American-trained South Vietnamese army has found it increasingly hard to cope with them.

Reed Meeting Set

The Tiburon school in the Reed Union School District will hold its parent orientation night tomorrow from 7:30 to 8:15 p.m., according to Supt. Edward C. Pino.

HARD-FISTED LEADER

What's Behind The Albania Blacklist

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Albania, whose Communist leadership is on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's blacklist, is a peanut-shaped land of snowy Balkan peaks, political purges and baggy-pants peasants.

More Oriental than European, Albania's estimated 1,625,000 people are mostly Moslem, although there is no official state religion.

Bounded by Yugoslavia to the north and Greece to the east and south, the 10,000-square mile state came into being from two former Turkish provinces after World War I, but it did not have national boundaries until 1925.

The tiny country is ruled with an iron fist by Communist boss Enver Hoxha, who once was an obscure teacher of French in a grammar school on the Greek-Albanian border.

FLED IN 1939

Its former ruler, President Ahmed Zog, fled in 1939 when Mussolini's legions leaped across the Adriatic to invade Albania.

He never returned to Albania. Zog died last summer in France.

Hoxha, the leader of fierce partisan resistance against the Axis, took over when Zog fled. A British officer who parachuted into Albania to join Hoxha's forces in 1943, described him as a man with "ambition, ability to lead, cunning and insincere when needed, and with no mercy for political rivals."

RUNS STATE

Some postwar statistics underscore this analysis. Of Albania's 14 leaders during World War II, only Hoxha survives. He has run the state for 20 of his 53 years. Of 31 members of the Albanian Workers Party Central Committee—the Communist Party—14 have been killed and only nine have remained since the end of the war.

The party itself has about 53,000 members, about the same as the population of the landlocked capital, Tirana.

Hoxha, who idolized Stalin and the Soviet leader's methods, fell afoul of Moscow when he sided with Peiping in the great ideological debate that broke into the open last year. He supported Communist China in the attacks on Khrushchev's "peaceful co-existence" line, demanded a more militant policy towards the West, and hung portraits of himself and Stalin throughout his craggy land. He also jailed 30,000 political prisoners in 14 concentration camps.

Hoxha was the only Communist leader who did not follow Khrushchev to the United Nations General Assembly last year. Instead, he sent Premier Mehmet Shehu, who was cold-shouldered by the other Communist chieftains in New York.

Soviet technicians and advismarines left their strategic Albania, apparently as much driven out by Hoxha as withdrawn by Khrushchev. Last summer a fleet of Soviet submarines left their strategic Albanian base at Saseno and headed for the Baltic Sea.

Now, observers say, Hoxha's back is to the wall. By counter-attacking against Khrushchev over radio Tirana, he has made reapproachment with Moscow impossible. Some experts said that since Hoxha was defended by Red China's Chou En-lai at the current 22nd Soviet Communist Party Congress, this means Hoxha—with Red Chinese backing—is aiming at a "fight to the death" to oust Khrushchev from world Communist leadership.

CHOU EN-LAI DEPARTURE STIRS CONCERN

MOSCOW (UPI) — The abrupt departure of Communist Chinese Premier Choup En-lai left Russians and foreigners wondering today just how deep is the split between Moscow and Peiping over Albania's Stalinist leadership.

On the surface, Chou's leaving yesterday, well before the end of the 22nd Soviet Communist Party Congress, was not extraordinary.

There were reports before he arrived that he would not stay the full session.

But against the background of Soviet-Chinese ideological quarrels and Chou's criticism of Khrushchev, Chou's departure is considered an indication of a serious rift.

Tshombe's reaction was not yet known.

It was not clear whether U.N. headquarters had specified further terms to which he must agree.

The U.N. ratification said the cease fire in no way affected the security council or general assembly decisions concerning the unity, integrity and independence of The Congo.

IN CORREGIDOR SURRENDER

M'Arthur Said Wainwright 'Unbalanced,' Story Claims

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur believed Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright must have been "temporarily unbalanced" when he ordered the surrender of his troops on Corregidor on May 6, 1942, according to a magazine article.

John Toland, writing in the current issue of Look Magazine, said that MacArthur charged Wainwright with mental incompetence after the late Corregidor hero acted against cabled orders forbidding surrender of the Philippine command "under any circumstances and conditions."

MacArthur issued his order from Australia where he arrived late in March, 1942, after his escape from the Philippines. The orders told Wainwright to "prepare and execute an attack upon the enemy."

The Corregidor Garrison was starving, exhausted and disease-ridden at the time, Toland said, and MacArthur's orders could not be carried out.

A spokesman for MacArthur said the general had not seen the article.

"And I frankly doubt that he will want to make any comment on it when he has read it," he said.

Toland's article is based on his forthcoming book, "But Not In Shame: The Six Months After Pearl Harbor."

He said that when MacArthur read a summary of Wainwright's surrender broadcast the general said, "I believe Wainwright has become temporarily unbalanced and his condition renders him susceptible to enemy use."

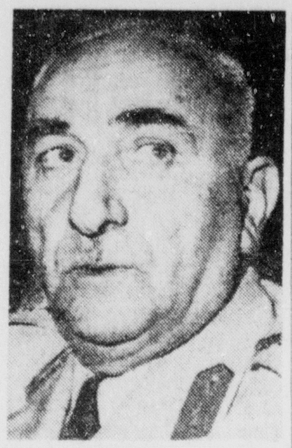

Toland said MacArthur claimed that his orders to Wainwright to hold Corregidor and prepare a counterattack were based on orders from President Franklin D. Roosevelt forbidding surrender "as long as there remains any possibility of resistance."

The author said that Wainwright resisted attempts by Maj. Gen. Edward P. King to surrender Bataan, but that King sent emissaries to the Japanese on his own initiative when his subordinates told him the situation was hopeless.

One month later Wainwright also surrendered shortly after composing his last message to Roosevelt, which began:

"With broken heart and head bowed in sadness but not in shame, I report to your excellency . . ."

Wainwright died in 1953.

Africa Nobel Winner Proud, 'Landlocked'

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Albert John Luthuli said today he would apply to South Africa's government for permission to go to Sweden to collect the Nobel Peace Prize he won for his fight against the government's racial policy.

Interior Minister Jan De Klerk refused to say whether the 62-year-old Zulu ex-chief would be released.

PROUD OF AWARD

"I will have to consider the whole matter," De Klerk said.

Luthuli said in a telephone interview he was proud to learn of the award, "not just because this honor has been done to me but also to my country and its people—especially those who have fought and suffered in the struggle to achieve the emancipation of all South Africans from the bonds of fear and injustice."

He said he had not decided what he would do with the prize money, which will amount to $43,744.

Luthuli was belatedly awarded the 1960 prize for his work toward the easing of effects of racial discrimination in South Africa.

PRIZE FOR DAG

The 1961 peace prize was awarded to the late Dag Hammarskjold, the Swedish U.N. secretary-general who was killed in a plane crash in Africa Sept. 18. The money will go to his estate.

There was no immediate official reaction to the Luthuli award from the white supremacist South African government. But the Cape Town newspaper Die Burger, which backs the ruling Nationalist party, took a dim view of the award.

Luthuli, a leader of the now outlawed African National Congress, has been detained intermittently by the South African government since 1952 when the congress started civil disobedience campaigns against racial discrimination.

Bonn Says Berlin Wall Should Go

WASHINGTON (UPI) — West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe indicated today that West Germany believes the Allies should press for removal of the wall between East and West Berlin in any negotiations with Russia.

Grewe talked with reporters at the White House after delivering a letter to President John F. Kennedy from West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on the Bonn government's policies on the Berlin crisis.

The ambassador's statements came as Sen. Gale McGee (D-Wyo.) said the wall was one of two negotiable issues in the Berlin situation. McGee, just back from Germany, listed the number of Allied troops in Berlin in the same category.

Grewe met with Kennedy for 50 minutes to explain Adenauer's letter and his country's stand on Berlin. The meeting had been scheduled to last only a half hour. The ambassador, returning from 10 days of consultations in Bonn, told reporters after the meeting that "we think the removal of the wall is one very important request which the West should put forward."

He said he felt more hopeful after his consultations in Bonn and his call on Kennedy "because of the degree of agreement" between the Western Allies.

Adenauer's letter was in answer to a previous letter from Kennedy to the chancellor.

Grewe said the Bonn government was not opposed to continuing exploratory talks with Russia on Berlin.

"But we think it is necessary to find common ground, or a common line of exploration," he said. "We are working on this now."

The ambassador said there were differences between France and the other Western Allies on tactics "but in our general political evaluation we are very close to the French."

Kennedy conferred yesterday with French Ambassador Herve Alphand.

Cubans Claim Worker Killed At Guantanamo

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba officially accused the United States today of killing a Cuban worker at Guantanamo Naval Base and demanded that American officers be delivered to Cuban authorities for trial for the crime.

In a note delivered to the Czechoslovak Embassy in Washington for transmission to the State Department, Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Rea declared the American base in Cuba "is a constant source of provocations" threatening international peace and the independence of Cuba.

The note repeated past assertions that Cuba is not planning to seize the base by force but "will reconquer full sovereignty over it through international right when the moment is ripe."

The Cuban press and some officials reported last week that Ruben Lopez Sabaniego was arrested and tortured to death at Guantanamo because of his leanings toward Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Protest meetings have been held in several Cuban cities. Castro announced last week he was giving Lopez' widow a pension. Workers were asked to contribute one penny each to build her and her nine children a house.

U.S. officials have reported that Lopez' body was found inside the base a few days ago and that an investigation was being made.

Church Of England, Catholics 'Allies'

LONDON (UPI) — The former head of the Church of England said today the Roman Catholic Church "has become an ally instead of an enemy."

Lord Fisher of Lambeth, former Archbishop of Canterbury, said the new relationship is a "most stupendous change and a complete new chapter in world history, as well as a new chapter in Christian history."

The terraced seven-acre development at 1495 Casa Buena Drive offers one, two and three-bedroom apartments with community recreation facilities.

73-Unit Rental Project To Open In Corte Madera

A new 73-unit rental project known as Madera Valley Apartments will open Saturday at 1495 Cast Buena Drive, Corte Madera.

The apartments, on seven hillside acres of trees and landscaped gardens south of Marin Joe's Restaurant, are being built by Gerson Bakar and Associates of Oakland, who are also owners and developers.

The development consists of 10 two-story terraced buildings containing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two and three-bedroom units are of two-level construction.

Community facilities offered to tenants are tennis courts lighted at night and with free group instruction, a large swimming pool and children's wading pool, also with free instruction, playground and a putting green for golfers.

The project was designed by Karl Triffinger. Also participating in the development are Daniel Coleman and Associates, civil engineers; David Alan Welisch, structural engineer; Dan Yanow, mechanical engineer, and Andrew Gotzenberg, landscaping.

Two of the buildings will be completed for the opening. Apartments will be displayed unfurnished.

Search Plane Crashes; 6 Die

TOKYO (UPI) — A twin-engined U.S. Navy plane on a search mission crashed into the side of a mountain 150 miles south of Tokyo today, killing six of the eight men aboard. The other two men were injured, one critically.

The Navy said the accident occurred at 3:30 p.m. when the Albatross plane from Atsugi Naval Air Station hit Daruma Mountain about 25 miles south of Numazu Village in Shizuoka State.

The plane was on a search mission for a Navy F-8U Crusader Fighter which went down in coastal waters of Shizuoka yesterday. The fighter pilot escaped from his disabled plane before it crashed and was rescued shortly afterwards, the Navy said.

Names of the victims aboard the Albatross were withheld until their families were notified.

Connell Youth Denied Writ In Extradition

Writ of habeas corpus to prevent extradition of Jeffrey Kelley Connell, 18, of Mill Valley to Reno to face trial for a holdup - murder there last March was denied late yesterday by Judge Thomas F. Keating in Marin Superior Court.

However, on motion of defense attorney Benjamin Dreyfus, the judge granted 10 days to appeal the case to the State District Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

Dreyfus filed his petition on two grounds: That Connell was ordered out of Nevada by probation officials and was not a fugitive and that Nevada provided "cruel and unusual punishment" for teen-agers.

The judge upheld Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales' arguments that Connell was only told to leave Nevada and not forced out by compulsion, and that the courts of Nevada provide the place to argue about Nevada punishment.

The judge issued an order keeping Connell in the custody of Marin sheriff's and probation officials "until the district court acts."

Reed Trustees Plan Salary Meeting

Reed Union School District trustees will be asked for final approval of staff salary procedures approved "in principle" by them and the Reed District Teachers Assn., at their meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the Reed School multi-purpose room.

Preceding the meeting trustees will inspect the material center during a public open house at the center from 7 to 9 p.m.

LOST MEN HAVE COOL HEADS

KINGS CANYON NATIONAL PARK (AP)—Two Navy men were cool—more ways than one—while stranded in the snowy high country of Kings Canyon National Park yesterday.

They aided air searchers by building a fire and stamping the word HELP in the snow.

Two Civil Air Patrol planes rescued Harold L. Barnes, 33, San Francisco, and Ernest Ogassian, Coronado.

They had become lost while on a fishing trip.

Historical Unit Names Tom Peryam

Thomas W. Peryam of San Anselmo was re-elected president of Marin County Historical Society by the board of directors at Boyd Park Lodge Saturday.

Also re-elected were William P. Murray, San Rafael, treasurer; Mrs. Guy Milner, San Rafael, financial secretary; Mrs. Thomas L. Harris, Mill Valley, recording secretary.

In accordance with the bylaws, the president appointed five honorary vice presidents and the board named five. These are Dr. Rodney B. Hartman, Mill Valley; James Marshall, Tomales; Alton Lerch, Novato; Frank B. Williams, Sausalito; Ward H. Austin, Larkspur; Dr. Leo L. Stanley, Fairfax; Dr. W. Scott Polland, Kentfield; Thomas Barfield, Bolinas; Parker Wood, San Rafael, and Roy Graves, San Francisco.

Graves was re-appointed curator of the museum, and Florence Donnelly was named program chairman.

Minister Withdraws Plea For Church Sign

A Lutheran minister, a newcomer to Marin County, decided yesterday the mechanics involved in gaining county planning commission approval of an off-site sign pointing the way to salvation was not worth the trouble.

Rev. Sig G. Sandrock of 8 Lomita Drive, Mill Valley, who identified himself as a home missionary from Madison, Wis., withdrew his plea for the temporary 4-by-4-foot sign announcing that Lutheran services would be held in the Tiburon Peninsula Club while a new church is being built on Trestle Glen Boulevard. The sign would have been placed at Mar West Street and Tiburon Boulevard.

"I don't see why a church has to seek a drive-in trade," said Commissioner Felix M. Warburg. "Surely the congregation knows where services are being held."

Warburg also charged that there were several signs, including those of churches, now erected on the peninsula which were suspected of being illegal.

Rev. Sandrock, who said he was "pleased to see people concerned about their countryside," said he was indeed soliciting members to the church. As a home minister gathering a new flock, he said he went door-to-door conducting a survey to find those with no church to invite them to attend.

"Many persons I talk to do not know where the Tiburon Peninsula Club is," he said. (The club was formerly the Southern Marin Recreation Center, the name having recently been changed.)

The planners explained to Rev. Sandrock that the absence of off-site signs in Marin was one of the reasons he found our countryside so pleasant.

"I don't want any hard feelings over this," the minister said. "I would rather forget it."

Commission Chairman William Upton suggested he reapply for an on-site sign at the club, using the same fee deposited on the first application.

Upton also instructed the planning staff to check on the other church signs which were suspected of being illegal.

"I didn't mean to get those other churches in trouble," said Rev. Sandrock.

Sanitary Board Seeks Way To Protect Sewer

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors last night appointed a committee to meet with the Albert Lovett Corp. apartment project contractor to devise means to protect the district's main sewer line, which runs beneath the apartment site.

The committee consists of Director Frank I. Lawson, District Engineer John C. Oglesby and representatives of the contractor, Marvin E. Collins of El Cerrito. It is to report at an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday, at the Sausalito city hall.

Laborer Gets Jail For Stabbing Wife

Oris Williams, 25, laborer of 76 Cole Drive, Marin City, yesterday was put on three years probation and given a 90-day county jail sentence with work furlough privileges for stabbing his common-law wife, Mary Denham, Sept. 16.

He appeared before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin Superior Court. He pleaded guilty Oct. 2 to assault with a deadly weapon.

Dobbs Denies 'Back Door' Methods Used

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday, through Principal Planner B. D. Dobbs, denied, in effect, "back door" methods concerning a proposed rezoning of Nicasio Valley Estates.

The commission approved on Oct. 9 a rezoning of the 205-acre subdivision two miles east of Nicasion from agricultural and residential under the interim ordinance to limited agricultural under the comprehensive ordinance.

The change would allow 20-acre minimum sized lots instead of 7,500 square feet allowed under the former classification.

The matter came before the board of supervisors on Oct. 17 but was referred back to the planners when Robert Carrol, representing Sawyer Mountain Corp., developers of the proposed tract, charged that notices had not been sent to interested parties.

Dobbs yesterday denied this, saying "our procedure was correct, although we did not answer the charges before the supervisors that day."

Notices had been sent, Dobbs said, but "interested parties" failed to show up at the hearing.

The matter was re-scheduled for a second hearing before the planners on Nov. 6. It would come before the supervisors for the second time on Nov. 14.

Kindergarten Should Offer More: Teacher

Kindergarten should offer more of an education program, Central School kindergarten teacher Marcella Schiller told Sausalito School District trustees last night.

She stressed this while taking part in a panel before the board with kindergarten teachers Jo Ann Shaw of Manzanita and Central schools and Thelma Wittington of Manzanita.

Miss Schiller said this year she has been able to develop reading ability in her pupils by stressing phonics. She said that her pupils, when they move to first grade, will have a full knowledge of phonics.

Mrs. Dorothy Tolpegin, district librarian, asked an additional fulltime librarian for Richardson Bay School for the 1962-63 year. She also stressed need for additional funds, saying the minimum for purchase of library books should be $2 per child. The district puts in about $1 per child this year.

Trustees assigned Mrs. Helen Williams to canvas homes in Marin City to learn whether parents are aware of benefits for their children from the child care center.

Trustees also approved a recommendation of Supt. Marcus F. Davis that he look into possibility of Tamalpais High School setting up adult education courses in Manzanita School in Marin City.

They agreed that the week of Nov. 6-10 should be one of minimum days so teachers may hold parent conferences.

Safeway Store Gets Tentative Nod In Novato

Tentative approval of preliminary plans for a new Safeway Store at Diablo Avenue and Highway 101 was given last night by the Novato Planning Commission.

This is the first unit of the Novato Fair Shopping Center to come before the planning commission. General plans for the center were approved June 27 by the commission.

A plywood store was approved for Roy M. Newgard at the corner of Redwood Highway and Sweetser Avenue. The store has been open for business since Oct. 1 and granting the permit was a formality.

A request by E. M. Oppenheimer to divide a parcel of land at 2 Pastel Court into two undersized lots was denied.

Hearing on rezoning land at Center Road and South Novato Boulevard was reset from Nov. 27 to Nov. 13, at the request of Al Tresch. Tresch seeks rezoning from multiple residential to commercial.

A request by Joseph De Borba for rezoning of 1.6 acres on South Novato Boulevard from single family residential to administrative-professional was continued until Nov. 1.

John and Rose Rapozo's request to rezone 9.34 acres north of 5613 Redwood Highway from limited agricultural to limited roadside business was continued until Nov. 27.

Consideration of the tentative map of Beverly Knolls unit 2 was postponed until Dec. 11.

HUMANE

ning and search for a site and the thought behind the establishment of an educational program by the society.

Kerr said he thought the society had answered the principal complaints" of noise, smell, appearance and traffic.

But it was obvious the audience was unimpressed.

P. W. Teague, speaking from the audience, put it this way:

"We are not criticizing your plan or its objectives. It's just in the wrong place. It doesn't have any place in an R-1 area. This is where we live; this is where we want to live. And speaking for myself I'll do everything in my power to block it."

(The 15 acres on which the Humane Society holds an option is unzoned.)

An unidentified woman's voice added, "You're speaking for us, too."

Jay M. Howard of 148 Oleander Drive, declared: "We who already live here feel we deserve more consideration than your theoretical program" for humane education.

Numerous other objections and questions were voiced from the floor.

Dr. Michael J. Franzblau, president of the district, asked for a show of hands of those opposed to the project. Practically every person present raised a hand. Then he asked for those favoring. No hand went up.

"The board has not been satisfied as to any of its objections," Franzblau declared. "We will take all the steps we can to block the program."

Petitions have been circulating for a week for presentation to the planners tonight, it was reported.

Jewels, Mink Worth $3,000 Are Missing

Diamond jewelry and a mink stole, worth more than $3,000 in all, vanished from a Tiburon home sometime Sunday, the victim reported to sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Charlotte T. Miller of 2028 Paradise Drive, a secretary, told Deputy Sheriff James L. Current that she and a friend, Ellison Ebey of Oakland, had left her home about 1:30 p.m. Sunday. When they returned at 9:40 that night, the front and back doors were ajar.

Drawers in her bedroom dresser had been pulled open, and the jewelry boxes on top of the dresser had been disturbed. Mrs. Miller found the following items were gone:

A woman's platinum wrist watch, with diamonds on the watch and on the band, worth $1,000; a mink stole valued at $1,000; a platinum wedding band with diamonds worth $700; a diamond locket set and a pearl bracelet; transistor radio from the kitchen shelf, and a $25 woman's wrist watch.

A piggy bank with at least $100 in dollar coins was also gone from the desser drawer.

Mrs. Miller estimated total loss at $3,000. Most of the expensive jewels were given to her by her former husband, she told investigators.

Touring 'Policemen' Due Court Hearing

Two "tourists," suspected of living off the land by using phony police badges for identification, were to appear in Marin Municipal Court today with the Marin public defender to represent them.

Robert E. Buntzler, 28, of Puebla Pue, Mexico, and Cullen W. Fugitt, 22, of Greenville, Miss., were held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $2,625 bail each. They were arrested yesterday on suspicion of defrauding the Edgewater Inn and posing as police officers.

The two, armed with a dozen credentials and badges, reported at the sheriff's office last week. Fugitt posed as a lieutenant in the Texas State Guard, and Buntzler said he was an inspector for the Mexican State Police at Puebla. Sheriff's deputies treated them with courtesy and even took Fugitt for rides on patrols.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said procedures will have to be changed so that hereafter, visitors will be checked more carefully as to their credentials and identifications.

Corte Madera police put out an alert for the pair when they ran up a big bill at the Edgewater Inn, then took off without paying. The two were caught at the International Inn at San Francisco Airport.

Sausalito's Waterfront Hearing Set

The Sausalito City Council's hearing on the central waterfront plan at 8 p.m. today will be moved to Central School if there are too many present for the 50-chair city council chamber, City Manager Charles A. Brown announced.

The plan, made by a citizen committee over a year ago, concerns park, parking, circulation and civic buildings. The planning commission has recommended adoption to the council of a variation of the plan, Charles E. Finney's report.

Both the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce and the Sausalito Citizens Council have taken firm stands on Finney's report, which favors a park for most of the area. The chamber is against it, saying the loss of parking will mean "death to the merchants." The citizens council is backing the Finney report.

Berlin Guards Defied Again By Americans

BERLIN (AP) — East Berlin border guards backed down last night when three Americans defied a Communist restriction on travel through the Berlin wall.

After a dispute Sunday between the border guards and the deputy chief of the U.S. occupation mission in Berlin, East Germany's Red regime announced all Allied personnel in civilian clothes would have to show identification papers.

Last night three Americans in civilian dress refused to show papers, and passed in and out of East Berlin.

Added Classrooms Approval Expected

Mill Valley School District trustees are expected to approve plans for additional classrooms at Old Mill and Tamalpais Valley schools Nov. 3, since the drawings and specifications were not ready for last night's meeting.

Walter Van Gelden of the architectural firm of Crawford and Banning told trustees that classrooms should be completed by June 30. A three-room addition at Tamalpais Valley and four-room addition at Old Mill School are planned.

Civil Defense Program Has Nothing To Go On

Marin County supervisors, who some time ago started things rolling toward a faster-moving county civil defense program, found themselves getting squeezed by it yesterday.

Their agenda included requested from both Corte Madera and the Public Health Nurses Section of the County Nurses' Assn. for appointment of a fulltime civil defense coordinator, as well as a request from the San Rafael city schools for a civil defense program for schools.

"Lots of people keep asking me when we'll have a coordinator," said Supervisor William Gnoss. "When will that be?"

"What are you going to coordinate?" countered Chairman William D. Fusselman, instigator of the idea. "Tell them I'm preparing information. But when I went to Sacramento yesterday I got very little.

"They have information from World War I and World War II but it has nothing to do with present problems. You don't want a coordinator so much as someone to speak up and tell what the federal and state governments have to say to us right now."

Gnoss confessed that he'd found evidence that current advice is out of date for the nuclear age. He said he knew of one female county employee who had spent $37 for a wheelbarrow, shovel and other implements of doubtful present civil defense utility.

"She had one of those old pamphlets they're still giving out," said Fusselman. He then read two letters he had received from Marin taxpayers, one assailing the "cruel deception" of telling people that shelters could save them, declared that "the only solution is complete disarmament," and admonishing Fusselman to "speak out now for peace."

The other stigmatized talk of shelter efficacy as "a hoax."

"I'm going to ask a vote in the newspaper to see who wants to do what," said Fusselman. "You want to know what to tell people—well, tell them that right now a coordinator couldn't be called a coordinator because there's nothing to coordinate."

Fusselman said the state disaster office in Sacramento itself doesn't have a disaster-proof building, although the federal government promised one two years ago.

He will visit Livermore, Alameda County, with a group tomorrow to study a reputedly advanced civil defense program on which Marin might model, Fusselman said, concluding:

"I'll have a statement in the paper shortly. Don't let them push you around. But I'm not going to talk until I know something about it."

Plan To Cut County Costs For Sick Leaves Proposed

A proposed "incentive program" to cut down county employees' sick leave which cost $91,371 last year failed to get off the ground yesterday because Supervisor Chairman William D. Fusselman couldn't understand what fueled it.

Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchel tried to explain that the essence was to persuade workers not to avail themselves of their authorized one day off per month, unless illness was real.

What caught the eye of Fusselman, as well as Clerk George S. Jones, who said it must be "just another way to spend money," was the incentive part consisting of cash pay for accumulated sick leave after a total of 60 authorized days off had been entered but not used.

Mitchell said in a letter that last year, 45 per cent of potential sick leave was used — "roughly five and one-half days per person."

The total time off last year was 3,732½ days, said Mitchell.

He said that sick leave for serious sickness was fine, but that if workers failed to take their accumulated authorized time off they could accumulate no more once they had piled up 60 days. So, he contended, when a worker has perhaps 50 days accumulated it's likely that absence will occur for ailments trivial or imperceptible.

Much better, argued Mitchell, to encourage people to keep working till they have 60 authorized absence days "in the bank" and thereafter pay a bonus of 25 per cent for up to 12 days a year.

Both members of the finance committee, Supervisors J. Walter Blair and George Ludy, joined in praising this as a good investment.

Fusselman, however, seemed unable to find any element of saving. He finally asked that the matter be continued until he could receive special coaching. Mitchell accepted the assignment.

Tobacco Problem High With Teens

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Smoking and the Adolescent" is the subject of a two-week course at the New York University School of Education.

Public health workers, teachers and school administrators will meet representatives of health agencies, the medical profession and other groups and discuss teen-aged smoking.

Professor Roscoe C. Brown Jr., in charge of the course, said: "Medical studies have shown that the effects of tobacco are cumulative. The later one starts to smoke, or the less one smokes, the better—a fact that was recognized last winter by the Empire State Helath Council when it announced a statewide campaign to educate teen-age smokers. This course will explore the most effective ways of impressing this information on teen-agers."

Cleaning Plant In Terra Linda Gets Approval

A use permit for a dry cleaning plant and shirt laundry in the Terra Linda Shopping Center was approved yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

No objection was raised to plans of the proposed plant, which had been opposed by residents when first suggested several months ago. Approval of the use permit automatically gave approval to plans submitted.

The plans indicate 17 parking spaces would be provided for the plant and adjoining building which will house professional offices. The commissioners agreed with the planning staff recommendations that the space was ample for the type of business proposed. To comply with the shopping center master plan, a total of 41 spaces would be required for the 5,000-square-foot facility.

OTHER ACTION

The commissioners approved addition of one lot to a tentative map of Del Miramar subdivision off Tiburon Boulevard near Avenida Miraflores in Tiburon. The addition would bring to 30 the number of lots in the 18-acre tract.

Denied was a petition to rezone a 40,000-square-foot parcel at Knoll Lane and South Knoll Road in Tiburon from suburban agricultural to planned residential or planned community, both of which zonings permit construction of apartments. Instead the planners approved zoning to planned residential permitting single family residences with an over-all density of 20,000 square feet per unit.

TURNED DOWN

The commission turned down application of P. J. Vincent for two free-standing road signs at Panoramic Highway and Sequoia Valley Road advertising the Mountain Home Inn. The commission agreed, however, to work toward "coordinated" signs at the intersection which now has six road direction signs, one "no dumping" sign, one Smoky Bear sign and one directional sign to Muir Woods.

Approved was a petition by W. Q. Wright Jr. to rezone 8½ acres off Highway 101 opposite the Marin County Airport at Novato from light industrial to limited agricultural. A public hearing on the proposed rezoning will be set by the Board of Supervisors on Oct. 31.

TENTATIVE MAP

A tentative map of Walnut Manor subdivision south of Leese Lane near Simmons Lane near Novato was approved, provided that Leese Lane be improved to a width of 20 feet, a drainage culvert be installed under Leese Lane, and a four-foot sidewalk be constructed on Leese Lane frontage. Protests by residents in Ferris Gardens, an adjoining subdivision, were taken care of by the conditions imposed, the planning staff said.

The commission split 3-to-3 on a proposal to amend the excavating ordinance. The question was sent to the board of supervisors for a decision on Oct. 31.

U.S. Will Benefit From New Railway

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (UPI)— The Pacific Ocean soon will be more accessible to travels from the Midwest because of a railroad now nearing completion in Mexico.

The new Chihuahua and Pacific Railroad will run Southwest from Ojinaga, Mexico, across the Rio Grande from Presidio, Texas to Topolobampo on the Gulf of California.

Direct connections with the heart of the Midwest will allow persons from Kansas City, for example, to travel all the way by train to Mexico's Pacific Coast—1,660 miles.

Plans for the "Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railroad" actually started in 1903; but financial difficulties kept the project from getting underway until 1953 when the Mexican government ordered it resumed.

The rugged terrain itself presented a challenge. The very landscape that made good scenery made construction hazardous. The great copper canyon, Mexico's answer to the grand canyon, is along the railroad route. The 425 miles between Chihuahua and Topolobampo is in the mountains almost all the way.

Apartheid Policies Of S. Africa Hit

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States accused South Africa today of "deliberately flouting" the United Nations by continuing its apartheid policies.

Ambassador Francis T. P. Plimpton warned the General Assembly's special political committee that unless the South African government dropped its racial policies, it would "produce a situation which would rock the entire continent of Africa."

Plimpton spoke in the second day's debate on the controversial subject in the 101-nation committee. Strong attacks against South Africa were made today by the United Arab Republic and Mali.

The U.S. ambassador the day's first speaker, did not join other critics of apartheid in urging sanctions against the South African government. He expressed his government's firm conviction that apartheid will fail, and urged all member nations to do "everything to end this bleak and unhappy chapter in the history of Africa."

"I wish to state in unmistakeable terms that we actively oppose the policy of apartheid," Plimpton said. "We believe that all men were created equal in the eyes of God and should be treated as equals in the eyes of law."

Plimpton said the United States was opposed to all forms of discrimination and deliberate deprivation of human rights —whether involving "black men, Hungarian patriots, Tibetan nationalists or East Germans behind barbed wire fences and concrete walls."

Hungarian delegate Jozsef Horvath promptly protested Plimpton's remarks about Hungary, where, he claimed, there was no discrimination whatsoever. Unruffled, Plimpton repeated his accusations and Horvath did not press his defense.

Plimpton said U.S. opposition to apartheid was based on principles of the American Declaration of Independence and because "apartheid clearly violates the U.N. charter."

But even without the charter the U.S. would condemn apartheid "in the strongest possible terms," he said.

"We rejoice in the bravery of the South Africans who fight day by day for justice," Plimpton said. He said he was heartened by the Nobel committee's choice of Albert John Luthuli, the South African Zulu chief, as the 1960 peace prize winner.

Wine, Loaded Rifle Net Two Arrests

Two San Francisco men were arrested by San Anselmo police at 2:30 a.m. today in a deserted parking lot, in a car containing four small children, several opened bottles of wine and a loaded rifle.

Rudy Louis Regaldo, 24, an unemployed longshoreman, and Morton Hillard Morrison, 26, a service station attendant, said they were lost. They said they picked up the children, aged 1, 2, 3 and 20-months, at a baby sitter's.

They were unable to give the name or address of the baby sitter, police said. Both men had obviously been drinking, the officers reported. They gave no explanation of the loaded Winchester automatic .22 caliber rifle.

The three older children were claimed by Regaldo. The infant is the child of Morrison, he said. The children were asleep in the car when police stopped the car in a parking lot behind the San Anselmo Paint Center at 353 San Anselmo Avenue. It had been followed there from a parking lot behind the Tanner Building at 190 Sir Francis Drake boulevard.

The chclidren were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Regaldo and Morrison were held to answer charges of child neglect, contributing to the delinquency of minors, having opened alcoholic beverages in an automobile, and possession of a loaded weapon. They were to appear in municipal court this afternoon. They were held in lieu of $1,050 bail each.

U.S. Must Help Aged, Brown Says

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today the federal government must do more to help state and local agencies in providing for the aged.

In a statement prepared for a U.S. Senate subcommittee hearing, the governor said California has "the most comprehensive program for senior citizens ever enacted by any state."

He said, however, the federal government, "because of its greater resources and the scope of its concern, must go even farther than it has in giving leadership and financial support to state and local efforts."

Thailand Closes Cambodia Border

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Thailand closed its borders with Cambodia today in the wake of Cambodia's decision to sever diplomatic relations with this country.

A spokesman for Prime Minister Marshal Sarit Thanarat said closure of the 500-mile southeastern frontier with Cambodia "automatically results from" the severance of diplomatic ties.

Earlier the Thai government said it regrets Cambodia's decision to break diplomatic relations and expressed hope "that reason may soon be restored to Cambodian leaders."

Magazine Printers Need Engineers?

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Publishers and magazine printers soon may be advertising for press room men under the heading, "Engineers Wanted," according to Hy Safran, a leading Detroit printer.

Safran told a meeting of the Magazine Publishers Assn. here recently that increasing automation of giant color presses will require supervision by graduate engineers.

"Engineers will be needed by 1970 because electronic controls will supplant human judgment in quality control and high speed press production," he said.

Board Given Kent School Entrance Plan

Kentfield School District trustees last night received plans for a redesigned entrance to the A. E. Kent School ground and instructed Supt. Howard C. Harmon to find if the plans conform to the master plan.

The plan was presented by George Renworth, principal of Kent School, and Mrs. Lee Windheim, Parent-Teachers Assn. safety chairman. It was drawn by Mrs. Windheim's husband, a San Francisco architect.

The plan would separate pupil pedestrian and bicycle traffic from automobile traffic and would permit better landscaping.

Trustees authorized adding $200 to the Parent-Teachers Assn. contribution of $400 to blacktop a 1,120-square-foot area at Wolfe Grade School, construct a redwood fence and plant trees. This would provide an outdoor lunch area.

An experimental project using KQED television in two classrooms at Kent School was approved. Cost for the remainder of the school year will be $39, or 60 cents per pupil.

Curriculum director Anthony G. Bacich reported an intensive training program is underway introducing Kentfield teachers to new instructional materials and approaches in mathematics.

Firm's Interest Going Quarterly

Beginning Jan. 1, Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. will compute interest of its pass book accounts on a quarterly basis, R. Keith Dearth, president, announced today.

He said directors unanimously voted this last night. He said the association, however, will continue to issue full paid investment certificates in multiples of $100 on which interest checks are mailed quarterly.

He said the association "has experienced a very healthy growth in assets since the first of the year," gaining more than $6,500,000.

Salesman Arrested For Battery

A Fairfax dairy salesman was arrested on a charge of battery last night because, according to the host, the party got too rough.

The party was Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Ingle at 1520 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo. Among the guests was Fairfax salesman, Hoyt Murphy of 2360 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The trouble started, Ingle told Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani, after the party was supposed to have ended. Murphy, he claimed, followed a female guest to her neighboring apartment and peeked through the window until she screamed.

Ingle said he then ran out after Murphy, who fled. And then, he declared, Murphy turned, knocked his head against the brick wall of the apartment building and punched him in the eye.

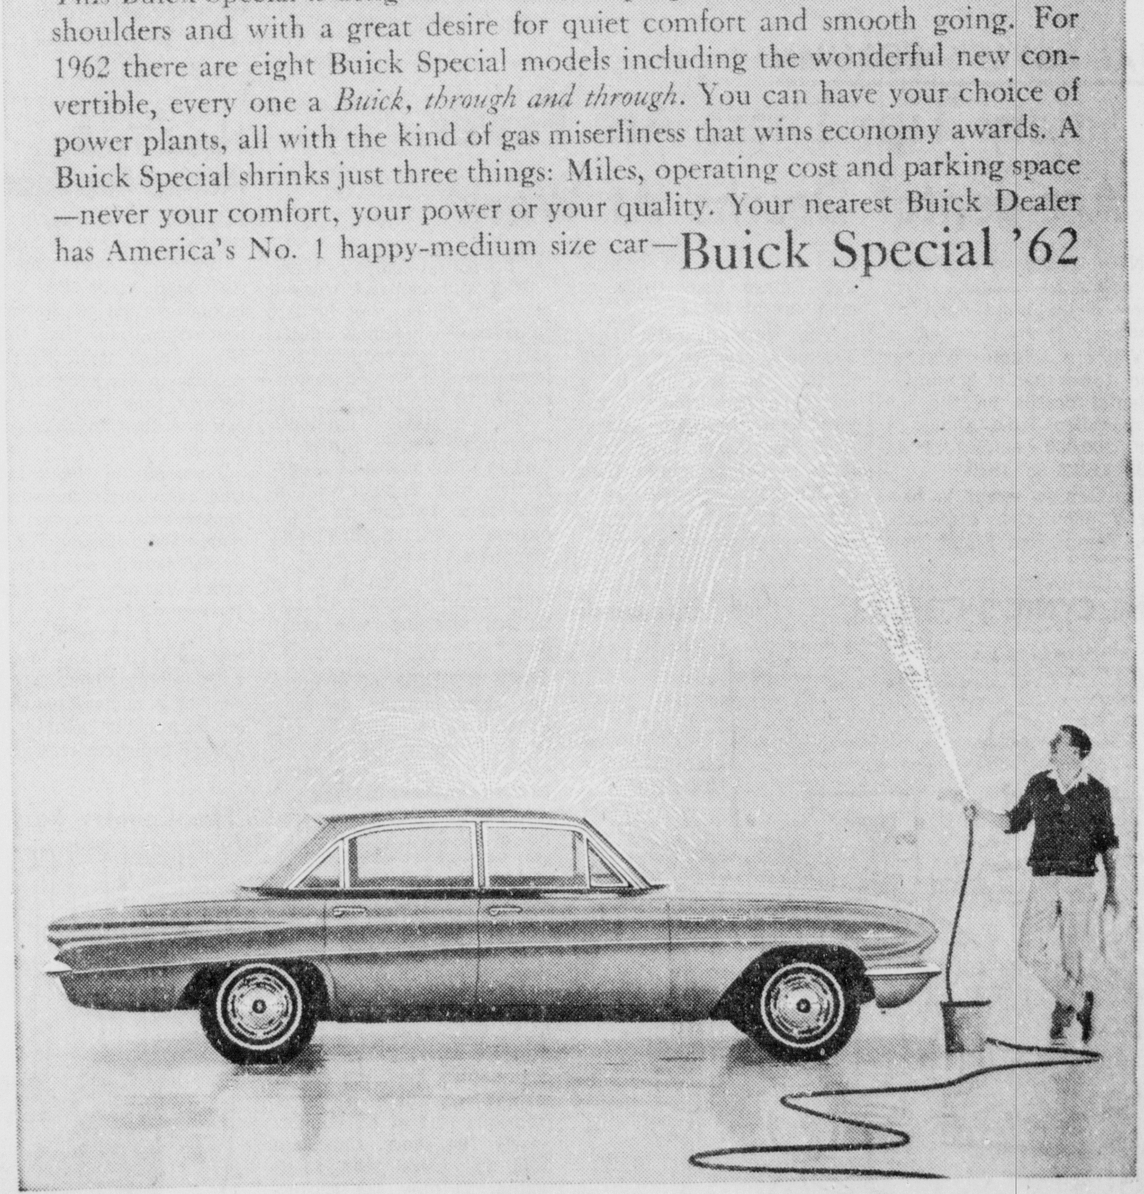

Murphy was arrested last night on a complaint signed by Ingle, booked at the county jail, and released on $263 bail.

There Is Still Hope While 16-Year-Old U.N. Lives

The United Nations becomes sweet 16 today, 16 years of turmoil and strife, of conflict and danger; none more dangerous than today.

The pall of tragedy still hangs over the U. N. chambers. The chair of the secretary general is still vacant. The ship of world cooperation is wallowing without a firm hand on the tiller.

When we look back 16 years to those days in San Francisco when the United Nations was being born, we recall the prayerful hope, the almost worshipful acclaim which greeted its birth. This was the organization which was to bring peace and a better life to all the world.

Today that still is the goal of the United Nations. It has not failed. We can not expect it to produce miracles over night. But it needs more support, more understanding and more faith than it has received in some quarters.

Despite criticism that it should have accomplished more in its lifetime, its record is outstanding in the fields of health, welfare and social progress. In many countries, living has been improved for millions of men, women and children through U.N. agencies.

UNICEF alone is assisting 407 separate projects in 104 nations, benefitting 55 million women and children in 1961 alone.

More than 83 per cent of the colonial peoples of the world have received their freedom to a great degree through the assistance of the U.N. Valuable technical and economic aid has been given to scores of under developed countries, making life better for more millions.

The drafting of the Declaration of Human Rights is another of its achievements. This guarantees to all people equality regardless of their religion, their race, skin color or place of birth. This is as it should be.

But more than anything else, the one thing that the United Nations has to offer all the people of the world is hope. Without the U.N. there would be nothing on which to base hope, hope for peace, hope for food, hope for security, hope for a better way of life. And hope can bind peoples together much more securely even than fear.

While the U.N. lives, hope lives. We must not allow it to die.

The Time Of Change

Off with the old and on with the new. So the saying goes. And it applies to Marin gardens now, for this is a season of change.

The moribund petunia plants must be pulled up. The dead and dying stems of the wind flowers, the perennial phlox, and the bedding dahlias need breaking off.

Tulip, narcissus, daffodil and hyacinth bulbs must be planted now to take their place in the spring garden.

Yes, this is a season of change—a time for destroying the decaying past and building a bright, colorful future.

Bulb planting time is the season of hope. It might be called the time of dreams for spring.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

USE POWER, DON'T ABUSE IT

One teen-ager's driving license lasted just 40 minutes. The 18-year-old boy received it at 10:20 a.m. in Albany, N. Y., one day recently. At 11 a.m. he was arrested for speeding.

Appearing in traffic court, the youthful driver heard the judge order his license revoked for 10 days and fine him $25.

The Lord entrusts a bit of His power to every human being. This divine confidence carries with it both a glorious challenge as well as a serious responsibility.

When employed in a constructive way, power can achieve wonders. If not held in check or if used to harm others, it reveals a lack of self-mastery.

Thank God for the privilege of exercising in your own way that power of which He is the eternal Source.

Whether you apply it to the running of your home, giving a talk, writing an article or driving a car, see in it an opportunity to be a co-partner with the Creator in building a better world.

"Blessed are those servants, whom the Lord when He comes, shall find watching." (Luke 12:37)

Thanks, O loving Savior, for allowing me to be a transmitter of Your heavenly power.

Safety Tip: There Are Fewer Accidental Deaths At Work

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

You are actually safer at work today than at home. Accidental deaths on the job have fallen from about 34 per 100,000 employees in 1939 to 22 in 1960.

The canine world is having a population explosion, too. The United States now has more than 26 million dogs, more than twice as many as in 1930.

THE NUMBER of divorces has risen sharply as they have been easier to get. In 1900 there was one divorce for every 250 existing U. S. marriages. In 1945 the rate had risen to one divorce for every 60 marriages. It's still climbing.

Jews Not Jewels Aided Columbus

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

While Americans were celebrating Columbus Day, Oct. 12, with its many tributes, it would have been fitting to have remembered the man who made the discovery possible.

It is generally believed that Queen Isabella sold her royal jewels to finance the enterprise. The historians of the times record that . . . "the jewels were long since reposing in her Spanish uncle's safekeeping and were not available. The treasuries of Arragon and Castile were empty."

In desperation, she appealed to her trusty comptroller —General Luis Santangel, a Marano (secret Jew), for help. To save his royal sovereign from embarrassment, the Marano supplied the necessary funds from his private purse the equip the fleet and wages for the crews. To quote from Emilio Castellar's Journal:

"Included among the many Maranos in the crews were: the interpreter, Louis de Torres, who was the first seaman to land ashore; surgeon, Marco; physician, Bernal; and it was the Jew, Roderigo de Triani, who was the first seaman to sight land."

The day before Columbus set sail from Palos, Thursday, August 3, 1492, the saintly Isabella, in gratitude to her trusty Jews, issued a royal edict and exiled 300,000 Jews from her dominions. As Madison Peters declares, "Jews not jewels made the great discovery possible."

Need To Be Active For Peace

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Whenever an American statesman visits the Soviet Union or a Soviet representative comes to the United States, each man invariably returns to his homeland and reports, "the people—American and Russian alike—want peace."

I am one of the unidentified individuals included in those broad- general statements about "people." I have never joined an organized group "for peace" or "against nuclear warfare."

I have read as much as I can emotionally and intellectually tolerate about the "horrors of a nuclear holocaust" or the possible "genetic damage of radioactive fallout to those born and unborn." . . . I have read enough, discussed enough, to know that I am unequivocally opposed to nuclear warfare and that everyone I come in contact with feels the same way.

Recently my anxieties about the possibility of a nuclear war have become acute. As my anxieties have increased, my conscience has been prodding me to take action. Reading, talking, criticizing, worrying are not enough. What can be done on a practical, action level?

I am neither a leader nor a crusader. The thought of possibly arousing people like myself in a world-wide declaration for peace is overwhelming. But Marin is my home and I can envision doing in Marin what I hope might happen the world over.

What can we, the people of Marin, do—those of us who are frightened and yet who have remained inarticulate? Could we aim at getting near 100 per cent of the citizens of Marin to sign a simple, direct statement, "I, the undersigned, am for world peace and opposed to nuclear warfare?"

I am not sure who should sponsor such an effort. I do know I would like to avoid having such a roster tied to sponsorship of any given identified group, political, religious, or other. If we could sign as individual Marinites, cutting across all groups, then the list would truly represent "People Who Want Peace."

Many individuals in Marin and the world over have already stood up and been identified and counted in the cause of world peace. These individuals and the groups they represent are to be profoundly respected. But my concern in writing this letter is for myself and others like me who have remained publicly inactive in spite of the convictions and fears within us.

Senior Citizens Editorial Faulty

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of Saturday, Oct. 14, entitled, "Retired People Constitute Our Neglected Generation" called attention to the serious housing needs of Marin's Senior Citizens. However, apparently the I-J has fallen into the old statistical trap of averages and in so doing, your editorial conclusions are unfounded.

Since Marin County has a high average per capita income, you imply that "retired people in Marin County . . . are pretty much free of financial worry." Our actual surveys of the incomes of large groups of Marin's Senior Citizens reveal a sizeable number of retired elderly with total annual incomes of less than $2,000.

Approximately 10,000 persons or 7 per cent of Marin's population of 146,820, according to the 1960 census, are over 64 years old. In this age group, over 1,000 persons are receiving public old age assistance in Marin. These people certainly have financial worries.

While retirement homes requiring a minimum of $10,500 entrance fee plus monthly rentals of $185 and up may help some of our higher income Senior Citizens, it is obvious that they cannot solve the housing needs of many of Marin's retired people. Many retired persons on fixed incomes, social security, or old age assistance simply cannot pay such high rentals even if there were no down payments.

The Housing Authority has information on hundreds of Marin's Senior Citizens of modest retirement income who need and want better housing. Since our limited low rent public housing projects are fully occupied, we have invited the Real Estate Board to help find these people decent housing, but have received no response from that organization.

Unfortunately, the proposed referendum to authorize the Housing Authority to develop additional housing for Marin's elderly failed to pass last spring. Your editorial then stated that perhaps the negative vote indicated too little public understanding of the problem and too hastily a proposed solution rather than a real turndown of aid to the elderly.

Therefore, we suggest that future editorials on this subject make it crystal clear that non-profit retirement homes and private real estate proposals, which are certainly to be commended and encouraged, cannot possibly meet the pressing housing needs of a large segment of Marin elders.

Super-Salesmen Of California Also Are Super-Salesman Suckers

California, that is American California, has always been known as a land of super-salesmen. This super-salesmanship first came to the foreground right after California became free from Mexico.

California sold itself to the world as the land where everyone could become rich by panning gold.

The monument to the discovery of gold at Coloma is about as accurate historically as the phony Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, New York, commemorating Abner Doubleday's invention of the game there. At the time Abner Doubleday "invented" baseball, it had already been played elsewhere for several centuries.

We rather imagine that we will get an argument that gold wasn't first discovered in Sutter's Mill in 1848. However, the fact is that gold in California was known by the Indians who worked the gold fields for centuries before Columbus. It was also known to the Mexican Californians, who apparently were too lazy to work the gold fields.

It remained for the Americans coming into California to really do the selling job of making California into an international gold rush area.

From its inception, California has sold herself as a new different way of life. So successful has this continued sales campaign been, that California still continues to be the fastest growing state in the Union.

But like all salesmen, California herself is prey to the gentle art of sales persuasion. Mute evidence of one of the biggest "fraud" selling jobs stand all over the state.

Among the early fortune seekers were gangs from Australia. Some of them quickly seized upon the idea of salesmanship to further their own ends. They sold Californians on the idea of planting eucalyptus trees for quick growth for lumber.

Why Californians would ignore the riches of the area in redwood lumber to plant these groves of eucalyptus trees, is beyond our power of comprehension. But the salesmanship must have been pretty persuasive, because they did.

Today the groves of planted eucalyptus trees stand as mute evidence of this sales campaign from one end of the state to the other. Yes, even here in tree-studded Marin, one can find the rows of planted eucalyptus.

WE HAVE OFTEN covered stories where churches object to bars going into neighborhoods, or stores getting a license to sell liquor. Recently this procedure was reversed in the East Bay.

A church applied for a permit to build in a neighborhood where there were three bars, a pool hall and grocery store which sell beer. These established businesses objected to the church coming into the neighborhood because their clients "would not appreciate the church's message" . . . it's still an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.

NOW THAT THINGS are settling down to normal in the Novato Chamber of Commerce, we wish someone would tell us why they have a sign in the office which reads: "Ice cubes for rent."

Khrushchev Not Yet Ready For Serious Negotiations On Berlin

WASHINGTON—If you cut to the heart of Khrushchev's speech when he dealt with the Berlin crisis, here is what you find:

He beamingly beckons the Allies to come to the conference table and assures us that all the Soviets want is a "mutually acceptable solution."

But—

He then defines what to him would be "mutually acceptable." It is to "end Western occupation of West Berlin" and "demilitarize" the city.

In other words, what is "mutually acceptable" to Mr. K. is our acceptance of his demands: namely, removal of the Western presence from West Berlin and the liquidation of the Allied garrison, which is the only guarantee of West Berlin's freedom.

THIS IS Khrushchev's newest invitation to negotiation. His invitation reads in effect: "Let's be mutually agreeable to each other by giving it all to us."

And alongside this invitation, Khrushchev places his own special persuader — the "terror persuader," the announcement that on Halloween he will explode in the atmosphere a 50,000,000-ton bomb to see how nicely it works.

It is standard Communist strategy to keep the heat on until absolutely everything has been done to create a compliant state of mind for the conference.

THIS IS THE purpose of Khrushchev's unsubtle suggestion that the United States, Britain, France and Germany and others can escape the horrible consequence of these weapons if they will give him everything and call it "mutually acceptable."

There is one aspect of the Khrushchev speech which some are interpreting as an important concession calculated to "calm the atmosphere." This has to do with his statement that he will not insist on signing his East German peace treaty by the end of this year—if this will make it easier for the West to negotiate in the proper frame of mind.

This is not a significant concession. It is only being made to look like a significant concession.

On the surface it can look significant because Khrushchev has contended that a Soviet-East German treaty would liquidate Western occupation rights in West Berlin.

That's what Mr. K says, but saying doesn't make it so.

It doesn't matter how many treaties the Kremlin makes with its puppet government in East Germany. What counts is not what the Soviets say about Western rights in West Berlin. What counts is what the Soviets do about Western rights in West Berlin.

It makes little difference to us whether the Kremlin signs a treaty with East Germany. What will make a difference is whether the Soviets act, by force or subterfuge, to deny access to West Berlin.

Mr. K.'s purpose is to drive the West from West Berlin. When he is sure it can't be done, then—and then only—will he be prepared to negotiate a "mutually acceptable" solution.

"Tree control" has not proved feasible in Marin County, the Sausalito Planning Committee told the city council. Mostly such efforts have resulted in dissension, said the committee.

State Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael urged a 25-cent Golden Gate Bridge toll. Bridge director Matt Graham suggested 50 cents, while reducing 20-trip commute books from $7 to $6. The counter-proposals were made at a public hearing of the bridge finance committee.

Acceptance of bids totaling $1,056,885 was announced for reconstruction of Highway 101 through San Rafael and resurfacing of the Alto Hill to the Waldo Wye.

Elderly Store Owner Gets Bandit Suspect

NEW YORK (UPI)—An elderly greeting card shop proprietor, armed with a hammer, captured a $72,599 bank robbery suspect yesterday when the gunman tried to hold up his store.

Police said John Vito Moise, 38, walked into the Joy Greeting Card Co. with a 38-caliber revolver in one hand and an attache case — containing another gun and a long-bladed knife—in the other.

The store owner, Emil Fischer, 64, rebelled when Moise ordered his wife, Selma Fischer, to fill out six $100 money orders and accompany him to a bank.

Fischer brought out his wife's coat, but instead of helping her put it on, he drew from under it a claw hammer. Fischer drew up his 5-foot-6 frame and swung the hammer, hitting the 200-pound Moise squarely on the head. Moise was felled by the blow.

The extent of Fischer's conquest of the goliath gunman was not learned until today when Moise was identified as a suspect in a Nebraska bank stickup.

The FBI said Moise was wanted in the $72,599 robbery of the Crossroads Facility of the First Westside Bank in West Omaha, last Aug. 7. His alleged accomplice, John Robert Sawyer, remained at large.

Group Wants To Save Tiburon's Waterfront—But How To Do It?

By CORENA GREEN

The who, what, where and when were obvious but "how" remained maddeningly unanswered last night for a group of Belvedere-Tiburon residents interested in preserving 1,200 feet of Tiburon waterfront property for public use.

Called by the Belvedere-Tiburon conservation league, the meeting sought to explore means of preserving waterfront between Tiburon's main street and Elephant Rock.

"The area is important as it is the last of the open waterfront," said Dr. Albertine Nash, moderator. "We need a place where children can fish, teenagers can launch boats, and old people can just sit and look."

Mrs. Palmer Field, league president who has sparked the drive, envisions the acreage as access to Angel Island where unpolluted swimming and fishing, hiking and boating are available.

There to argue on the other side was Milton Tonini of Ross, who has a long-term lease on the property. Tonini said architects are at work on plans which he predicted residents would like. He said the property is not for sale and estimated its value at $3,000 per front foot. (This would make the estimated value of the 1,200 feet $3,600,000.)

"How can you go to sleep tonight believing the proper step is to increase taxes by taking this property off the tax rolls? How can you justify taking our land? If you can justify this, then Sam's and Varney's should be torn down," Tonini said.

To this Dr. Nash replied, "If you can justify a three-story duplex in the center of a magnificent view, then a lot of people with bad consciences aren't sleeping well."

Mrs. Benton D. Mathews commented, "I feel I couldn't sleep unless I am willing to pursue the matter and acquire the property."

Gilbert B. Darroch, past president of the Tiburon coordinating council, expressed pessimism as to the league's ability to acquire the property. "There is no legal entity to condemn and if we could purchase it, it might cost $3,000 for each peninsula resident," he said.

Mrs. Field replied that it would cost that much for a resident to move to a more desirable area.

Mrs. Field said the county board of supervisors was sympathetic to the problem and had instructed the planning commission to investigate means of keeping the waterfront open.

B. D. Dobbs, county principal planner, and Douglas Maloney, assistant county counsel, both warned that rezoning was probably not feasible, however.

Mrs. Joseph B. Wallace commented: "We are painfully aware it is later than we think. What gives character to the community is slowly being painted out, 20 feet at a time. Most of the land is in private ownership. We have no one to blame but ourselves."

Those attending expressed a desire to pursue the matter further. Mrs Field asked that they mail letters to the board of supervisors asking it to take steps to preserve the Tiburon waterfront, and to attend the Nov. 6 supervisors' meeting "to make it obvious that the community wants this."

Church Beats Navy For Tall Steeple

GAINSVIILE, Ga. (UPI)—The Mill Methodist Church has won a victory over the Navy.

The church agreed in 1944 to remove its steeple as a flying hazard for a base constructed nearby for World War II training. It was agreed the Navy would replace the steeple after the war.

But the Navy moved out without carrying out the agreement and no copy of the pact could be found. Church officials recently uncovered the record and the Navy sent a check for $3,500.

Bruce Won't Give Text On Dismissal

Dismissal of Stella Hughes as assistant county personnel director was due to reasons directly linked with personal performance and without any broad implications concerning the county merit system, Administrator Alan Bruce said today.

His statement followed a request that he release text of his notice to Miss Hughes last Thursday of dismissal for cause, copies of which were sent to supervisors and personnel commissioners.

"I would prefer not to give publicity to my letter because I do not wish to be unfair to Miss Hughes in subjecting her to any 'trial by headline,'" said Bruce.

"However, the letter is explicit as to causes. I intend to release it if there is any further action toward advancing the rumor that she is being released as of tomorrow as part of an attack by myself on the merit system."

Almonte Board Vacancies Stir Charge

The Almonte Sanitary District board faced a tough problem today: How to fill two vacancies when one of the three remaining members absents himself from meetings.

Chairman Home E. Winfield charged today that director Francis M. Gelardi is "playing patsy" with the board.

The charge came after Gelardi (1) notified Winfield that appointment of two new members at the board's September meeting was illegal because there was no quorum present, and (2) stayed away from last night's meeting—so there was no quorum again.

Two months ago, directors Jerome F. Downs and Valerian Skyrlov resigned from the five-member board. Last month, only Winfield and director Patrick Price were present for the board meeting. They named Robert A. Alexander and Richard J. Dawe to fill the vacancies.

Yesterday, Winfield received a letter from Gelardi charging the September meeting—and the appointments—were illegal because there was no quorum. Asst. County Counsel Robert Smallman confirmed this.

Winfield adjourned last night's meeting to 8 p.m. Thursday—in hope.

A.F. School Bus Slams Truck— 4 Die, 8 Hurt

KAPUSKASING, Ont. (AP) — A U.S. Air Force School bus slammed into the back of a gravel truck near here yesterday, killing the driver and three children and injuring 18 others.

Airman James Harris, 21, of Lakeland, Fla., the bus driver, was killed when his vehicle plowed into the truck, one of several hauling gravel for construction near this northern Ontario town.

The son and daughter of the commanding officer of the U.S. radar base at nearby Lowther, Maj. Arthur Fox of Chicago, were killed. Melvyn Fox, 11, and his sister Karen, 12, were sitting in the front passenger seat. Their brother Gregory was among the injured.

John Morgan, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Morgan, who come from Wisconsin, died in a hospital here during the night.

Gallinas Village Asks Aid In Getting Creek Samples

Gallinas Village Community Services District yesterday asked county cooperation in taking samples of Gallinas Creek water as required by the Regional Water Pollution Control Board.

Catch is that both county and district have already been held guilty of a misdemeanor, and that the county's failure was explained last week due to lack of adequate facilities and personnel.

Request of the district was that its sampling be added to what the county is doing, with the district paying for its share of the cost.

Supervisor Walter R. Castro moved that this be done and the board unanimously supported his attitude without telling Chief Sanitarian William L. Desmond how he was to comply without added personnel or equipment.

Novato School Principal Called Up

Novato Unified School District trustees tonight will consider giving a leave of absence to high school Vice Principal Stanley V. Onderdonk.

Onderdonk has been called back into active duty in the Navy. The board at its 8 p.m. meeting in the administration building, will consider appointing an "assistant to the principal" to serve during the time that Onderdonk is in the service.

The board will also set a date for a public hearing on the Novato-San Jose unification measure to come before the voters on Nov. 21.

Counseling problems at the high school will be presented by the counseling staff.

The board will also consider classroom space problems and how to plan future construction to solve them.

Ancient Archie Apologizes; 'Should Have Been Classic'

BALTIMORE (AP) — After knocking down Pete Rademacher eight times en route to a six-round technical knockout last night, ancient Archie Moore apologized for not putting on "a more classic performance."

"I tried, but this man is a very awkward fighter," Moore said.

"It's hard to hit him with one of those clean, classic punches that people like to see. I couldn't get a clean shot at him."

But Moore landed lots of more common punches as he floored Rademacher once in the fourth round, five times in the fifth, and twice more in the sixth before referee Benny Goldstein mercifully ended the one-sided bout at 2:10.

Moore, the recognized light heavyweight champion in New York, Massachusetts and Europe, fought at 198, well over the 175-pound limit in the scheduled 10-round non-title bout.

The first three rounds were dull and drew boos from the Coliseum crowd of 3,869 which contributed to a net gate of $10,418.

Rademacher, at 33, is some 11 to 14 years younger than Moore.

Moore said he would fight another heavyweight bout before deciding "once and for all" whether to continue as a light heavy. He will meet with Montreal promoters Thursday to discuss a possible bout with Bob Cleroux, the heavyweight champion of Canada.

Sausalitan Knud Wibroe Wins 1st Folkboat Test

By AL MATSON

In breezes that were light but consistent, Knud Wibroe, Sausalito Yacht Club, sailed his Snaps into the winners' circle yesterday in the first invitational regatta as sponsored by the San Francisco Folkboat Assn.

The invitational factor involved not only the Folkboats but included, as well, the IC's, Knarrs and Bear Classes. Although the sponsoring group had a 17 boat turnout let's just say that, while many were bidden, not too many of the other classes came to the party.

The inveterate IC racer and champion Jake Wosser went through his usual paces to win in that class and quite handily, too. Don Durant, Metropolitan Yacht Club, was victorious in the Knarr Class with Squirelly II and the Bear Class front runner was Grizzly Bear with Richmond Skipper Earl Larson at the helm.

Results: Folkboat, Snaps, 3883 points; Annie, 3130; Flirt, 2227; IC, Rutson, 2285; Trident, 1683; Iaorana, 1030; Knarr, Squirrely II, 2324; Sproyt II, 1926; Circle II, 1421; Bear, Grizzly Bear, 1558; Bandersnatch, 655 and Honeybear, 101.

Hub Boxer Loses To Bobo Olson

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Former middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson easily moved up the comeback trail as a light-heavyweight last night by eliminating a step which he had tripped on earlier—Sixto Rodriguez of San Anselmo.

The 33-year-old Olson, who lost a close decision to Rodriguez in September, scored a unanimous decision over the California light-heavyweight champ at Civic Auditorium.

Rodriguez took the edge in the September bout by jabbing and running. He didn't have enough room to run last night, as Olson took charge aggressively in the early rounds.

Bobo, cheered lustily by a crowd of 3,000, had his opponent reeling in the fifth and seventh rounds but there were no knockdowns. Olson came into the bout at 178 pounds, while Rodriguez weighed 177.

All three officials scored the battle in favor of Olson. Referee Tony Bosnich carded it 4-1, Judge Vern Bybee had it 6-2, and judge Frankie Carter voted 4-2.

State League May Expand Next Year

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Eight teams may play in an expanded California Baseball League next spring, says President Eddie Mulligan.

Mulligan said at the league's annual meeting here Saturday that a new entry may be added either in Salinas, Porterville or Marysville. San Jose became the seventh club in the circuit Sept. 18.

League directors approved a 140-game schedule to open April 23 and end Sept. 9.

DESPITE AAU BLOCK

NCAA To Change Sports Set Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National College Athletic Association (NCAA) today boldly went ahead with its plan for re-organization of amateur sports in the United States despite opposition from the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU).

The NCAA's policy-directing council yesterday approved and endorsed special and executive committee reports that call for a drastic change in the control of amateur sports by setting up associations from high schools, the NCAA, the AAU, armed forces, open competition and at-large groups.

"The AAU has been arbitrary and autocratic in many instances," said Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, at the opening of the council's three-day meeting.

"We feel there is an acute need for new controlling organizations which will be more truly representative and which will operate along more democratic lines," Byers added.

He emphasized, however, that the NCAA's plan was in no way an effort "to take over or control" amateur sports in the United States.

The NCAA plan would affect both national and international athletics. The AAU has long served as the United States' governing body on major Olympic sports and other amateur sports by international levels.

POOR PROGRESS

The NCAA voted in April, 1960, not to respect AAU eligibility rulings and other sanctions applying to college sports. Since then the NCAA and AAU have met four times without any "appreciable" progress.

Byers said the plan "is a determined effort to gain equitable representation for a number of organizations deserving representation."

If the NCAA's plan gains approval, the AAU conceivably could lose control of its power over most amateur sports, notably basketball. The NCAA already has endorsed the U.S. Basketball Federation to replace the AAU as the U.S. representative in the International Amateur Basketball Federation.

DENIES CHARGE

In Columbus, Ohio, Nick Barackk, president of the AAU, denied that the AAU in any way wished to control any collegiate competition.

"The NCAA is attempting to enter the other than college field," he said. "Whether or not they rightfully belong there is a question. We feel there are two spheres of influence — one belonging to the scholastic, and one that does not."

The NCAA was expected to announce today any recent infractions and penalties imposed upon colleges. The 18-man council also will be presented with a 16-point program designed to combat gambling.

'Shotgun' Can Still Get Job Done: Hickey

CHICAGO (UPI) — Coach Red Hickey maintained today that the San Francisco Forty Niners' shotgun offense can get the job done—providing the team can perform such fundamentals as blocking, tackling and pass-catching.

The Chicago Bears humbled the prospectors by a lop-sided 31-0 count Sunday and many wondered if it marked the beginning of the end for Hickey's controversial offensive pattern.

In particular, the Bears were praised for throwing up the five-two defense employed against wing-type offenses in the long ago days before the T, instead of the usual four-three used by modern pro teams.

But Hickey said that "the Bear defense showed us nothing we hadn't worked on."

"The main thing is they executed the defense better than anyone else. They took us on and beat us."

Hickey asserted that if "we had been hitting our passes, it would have been like our last three games (49-0, 35-0, 35-24 wins for San Francisco)."

Hickey pointed out that fumbles by J. D. Smith and Bill Kilmer and key dropped passes by Bernie Casey and R. C. Owens hurt the Forty Niners in the first half, but he added that "in the second half, we just didn't have it. The blocking and tackling was the worst it has been all season."

Defensive coach Clark Shaughnessy of the Bears, who devised the Bear defense, said he had spent more than 100 man hours readying for San Francisco.

"We got a lot of breaks when they lost Bob St. Clair, there was a big difference in their blocking. I still consider the shotgun a great offense because it can hit every hole and hit it effectively," he said.

The Forty Niners got one bit of good news when it was learned that St. Clair suffered only a bruised back against the Bears and would be ready to go Sunday at Pittsburgh.

PEBBLE BEACH (AP)—Television coverage of the 1962 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament here will include action the last two days instead of just the finals as in the past.

The American Broadcasting Co. announced Thursday that a one hour program will cover the golf on Jan. 20 from 2-3 p.m. and the final day, Sunday, Jan. 21, will be televised from 2-3:30 p.m.

Crosby again will be the chief commentator for the $50,000 tournament, known officially as the National Pro-Amateur.

Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto won the professional division title last year with pro Wes Ellis and Amateur Frank Tatum Jr. of San Francisco winning the pro-amateur crown.

Marinites Net Four Golden Swim Tags

Marinites today are polishing four gold medals brought home from the Annual Mid-Winter Championship Swimming meet.

These swimmers captured first place honors at the meet, held last weekend at Balboa Pool in San Francisco: Laurie Oliver and Jenny Cowger of Ann Curtis School of Swimming, San Rafael, and Ken Frost and Candy Beeler of the Marin Pirates Swim team.

Paced by breaststrokes artist Frost, Beth Kaufman's Marin Pirates Swim Team 25 contestants in the finals, and came home with 10 medals from the 19th annual Championships.

Top winner for the Pirates was 16-year-old veteran Frost who easily took the senior men's 200 yard breaststroke race in 2:34.5, and then breezed through the 15-16 boys' 100 with a 1:09.5 effort.

Only other gold medalist among Coach Kaufman's natators was 12-year-old Beeler who won the 50 breast in her age group with a 39.5, and placed third in the senior women's 200 breaststroke. She was also fifth in the 11-12 girls' 50 butterfly.

Oliver won the 50 yard freestyle, 11 and 12, in 29.4 seconds, and earlier had placed third in the 200 yard freestyle for senior women with a 2:27.6. Jenny won her gold piece in the 50 yard freestyle for 10-and-under girls in 32.1 seconds.

Grid Stats Show Why Chargers Lead League

DALLAS (AP) — A glance at the team statistics shows without hesitation why San Diego is leading the American Football League by a mile.

The Chargers are the stingiest on defense of any team in the two-year history of the league. They have allowed their seven foes a total of 1,522 yards—an average of 217.4 yards per game. It's in passing defense that they are the toughest, however.

Spartans Lead Grid Poll By 40 Points

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State widened its lead over Mississippi among major colleges today in the weekly poll of The Associated Press' 48-man committee of football writers and sportscasters.

A 17-7 victory over previously unbeaten Notre Dame gave the Spartans a 40-point edge over Mississippi which had trailed by only two points last week.

Coach Duffy Daugherty's sturdy Michigan State team led by fullback George Saimes collected 29 first place votes on the strength of their second half performance against Notre Dame. In the point score it was Michigan State 444, Mississippi 404.

Despite a 41-0 romp over Tulane in a night game, powerful Mississippi lost some support and received only 11 first place ballots, compared to its 21-16 edge over the Spartans last week.

The top ten with points on a 10-9-8-7 etc. basis, with first place votes in parentheses:

1.	Michigan State (29)	444
2.	Mississippi (11)	404
3.	Texas (3)	372
4.	Alabama (4)	331
5.	Iowa (1)	327
6.	Ohio State	235
7.	Louisiana State	128
8.	Notre Dame	118
9.	Georgia Tech	108
10.	Colorado	97

Others receiving votes: Missouri, Navy, Minnesota, Maryland, Rice, Michigan, Utah State, Southern California, Rutgers, Utah, Auburn, Army, Kansas and Clemson.

We Can All Take Our Hats Off To Clark Shaughnessy, Shotgun Plugger

HANLEY

Hats off to Clark Shaughnessy. He said the 49er Shotgun wasn't a "bread and butter" formation and he proved it yesterday. The man is a defensive genius. To overall strategy he mapped for his field tactician Bill George was flawless.

Of course, it also took perfect execution of the plan by George and his Bear teammates to prove that Shaughnessy wasn't merely mouthing words at the Palo Club last May when he said the Shotgun was not a sound football formation, that its initial success could be attributed to the element of surprise.

Because the Shotgun closely resembles the old double wing with which Pop Warner rode to fame many years ago, Shaughnessy set his basic defense accordingly. He moved George from his normal middle linebacker position right up on the line and over 49er center Frank Morze.

To the left and right of George were Doug Atkins, Fred Williams, Maury Youmans and Bob Kilcullen, smallest of that towering Bear quartet at 6-3, 245. Together they rushed John Brodie, Bill Kilmer and Bob Waters faster than the original 49ers stampeded into California's rich Mother Lode.

ATKINS AND YOUMANS, cat-like giants, put a devastating pincers squeeze on whatever barrel of the shotgun happened to be operating. Occasionally, Williams and Kilcullen insisted on participating in the fun. It took two men to keep George contained and finally, during the second half, two men were assigned to keep Atkins and Youmans under control.

The Bear line rush had Brodie, Kilmer and Waters running for their lives all afternoon, quite unlike the rocking chair operation they enjoyed in the Shotgun's laughing wins over Detroit, Los Angeles and Minneapolis.

The Bear secondary didn't have much traffic to handle but what it did get it handled superbly, picking off three passes while permitting only five completions in 18 attempts.

IT WAS THE kind of rout the 49ers never previously have suffered — only six first downs and a 31-0 blanking. To loyal 49er fans, it was a saddening experience to watch the three barrels of the Shotgun bent and twisted so viciously that there wasn't a chance of them firing accurately on the ground or in the air.

However, that's no reason why hats shouldn't be doffed to a real football genius—Clark Shaughnessy.

Tacoma Tops In PCL Attendance

SEATTLE (UPI)—The Tacoma Giants, who walked away with the Pacific Coast League pennant last season, also led the league in attendance, league president Dewey Soriano said today.

A total of 270,024 fans saw the Giants' home games during the season although the figure represents a drop of 26,234 from the 1960 attendance figures.

Soriano said the league as a whole, however, drew 15,096 more fans than in 1960. The total 1961 gate was 1,349,810.

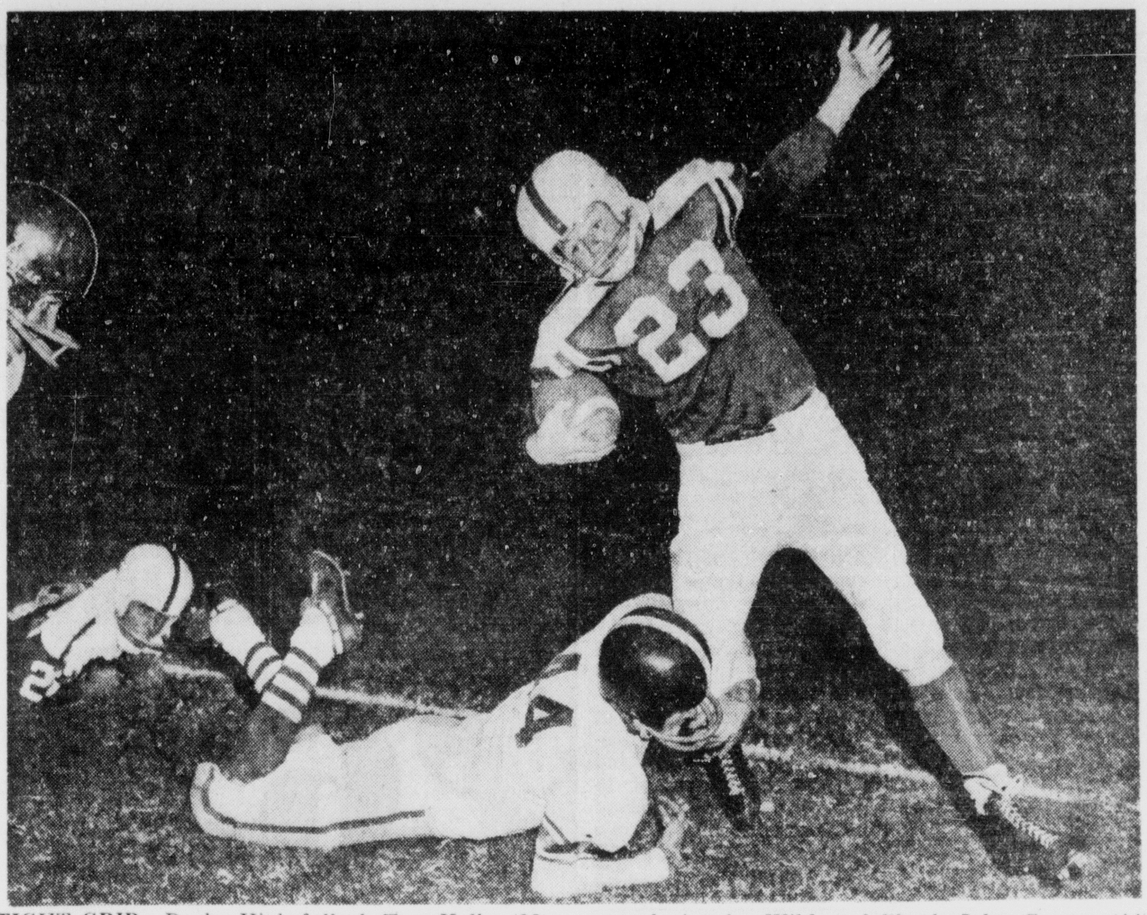

New York Rangers Hot, But Not Hot Enough

MONTEREAL (AP) — Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers continued his hot streak last week but failed to gain any ground on his closest pursuer—Eddie Litzenberger of the Detroit Red Wings—in the National Hockey League individual scoring race.

Official NHL statistics released today show Bathgate, 29-year-old right winger, scored one goal and collected six assists in four games to extend his league-leading point-total to 15.

TIGHT GRIP—Drake High fullack Tom Kolbe (23) had just come to the end of a 13-yard romp against the Marin Catholic Wildcats in the third quarter of last Saturday's game. His onslaught was brought to conclusion by Wildcat fullback John Carney (44). Catholic coach Harry Moore was displeased with his team's tackling, Drake coach Bob Franceschini, whose Pirates won 33-7, was no displeased at all. (Jim Kean photos)

Novato Hornets And Drake Pirates This Week Have Each Other In Mind

By PAUL MILLER

After decisive victories by Novato and Sir Francis Drake high schools on gridirons this past weekend the two teams emerge undefeated in 1961 Marin County Athletic League competition.

The powerful pair will clash in a highly significant game at Novato next Saturday afternoon.

Tamalpais and Redwood have yet to come up with a win in league play, and in their two outings, San Rafael and Marin Catholic have a victory each.

Not only did two tough teams exhibit their prowess last week end but from their ranks came two strong men: Dennis McCormick from the Hornets and Rich Bottini from the Pirates.

BOTTINI CUTTER

Bottini Saturday night against Marin Catholic ripped and tore and cut his way up and down the gridiron for a 177 total rushing yards in 12 plays. He accounted directly for two of the Pirates' touchdowns.

"Rich Bottini did a real job," said his coach, Bob Franceschini, whose troops are coming on stronger and stronger and are now aware of what spoils await them if they stay in stride.

McCormick rumbled for 138 yards in the action with Redwood on 16 carries, made a key interception and tackle after tackle.

McCORMICK OUTSTANDING

"McCormick played his outstanding game of the year," said his coach Marlin Olsen. Olsen also had some good things to say about the play calling and down field blocking of quarterback Don Scribner as well as wingback Cliff Pierce. On defense he described tackles Art Cherry and John Cook as always doing a good job. He supported the statement with statistics. Opponents in all of the Hornets' six games this year have run a total of only 200 yards through the pair's thorny mid-line gates.

Everybody played on the Hornets' 36-man squad Saturday. Asked how he thought his other than first stringers did, Olsen answered that he thought they looked "real good, and helped out by allowing the first team to rest." Redwood was held by the Hornets' strong defense to 33 yards rushing and 29 yards passing.

HUSTLING GIANTS

"Our kids were hustling and trying," said Troppmann of his Giants, "but we just met a better ball club." Troppmann felt Redwood looked better defensively than they ever have this year. He pointed up linemen Mark Pearce, Larry Koontz and Yank Eppinger as standouts. Larry Pierroz, defensive linebacker, was also included.

"We have yet to put together our best game," said the mentor of his defending champions. "We still have some winds in the furnace and some fire can be stoked." Troppmann put a shotgun formation into motion against Novato. He felt that it was the better part of the Giant attack. It will be interesting to watch it used against the Bulldogs next Friday.

GOOD STRATEGY

While Franceschini gives most of the credit to his boys' work, a major reason for the lack of Marin Catholic's low scoring lies in Franceschini's defence against the Wildcats' spread. The Drake coach instructed his secondary and placed them so that Wildcat Joe Jones could connect fairly easily with the short ones, but with only a slim chance on the long, killer passes which got to San Rafael a week ago.

"We didn't care how many of those four and six-yarders they knocked off, just as long as they failed on the 'home run' bids." It worked. Jones connected only once with Paul Krueger in the final minutes of the game to avoid a shut out.

To work this type of defense, however, much dependence is put on the ability of the defensive line. Drake's line, headed by Kelly Scott can carry this responsibility. In for praise by Franceschini for their offensive work were middle linemen Jim Morena and Don O'Brien. The pair were credited by Franceschini as key blockers who helped trigger Bottini and fullback Tom Kolbe's good runs inside and even down and outside.

"We get better each day," said the Pirate mentor. "If we can continue to improve—it—well it will be wonderful," he added. He said the tension for the Saturday game began mounting yesterday.

Marin Catholic coach Harry Moore said of the contest: "I played better ball at the halftime than they (Wildcats) played the whole game. Football is a game of blocking, tackling and aggressiveness. We were none of these Saturday. I though they were up for the game — they were not up. Maybe they were over coached this week, I don't know."

GREAT DEFENSE

An excellent exhibition of defensive football took place in the San Rafael stadium between the victorious Bulldogs and the Tamalpais Indians last Friday.

Tam coach Jim Hanretty called the contest one of the finest defensive game in high school football I have witnessed," and added that it was the best defensive effort he has ever seen a Tam team provide.

Bulldog coach Bob Muster was equally impressed with the defensive quality of both teams in the affair, and pointed out that his club's statistics show San Rafael being contained to a total of 150 yards and Tam to a minute 11 yards total rushing.

Jack Clark, 185-pound senior guard, was the outstanding player of the game in his coach's estimation. Clark was all over the field. On defense, he and his colleague Chris Yeager, were in on 17 tackles, Denis Nickel, 16, Rich Robertson, 12. Observers commented that it was Clark who made the difference in the 8-0 contest.

On offense quarteback Jack Sovereign connected on five out of nine pass attempts to Alan Finley (3) and Bruce MacPhail (2). He also kept Tam in the hole with his fine punting. Stats showed the best running back of the game to be Mike Shafer, junior fullback, who carried 11 times for 3.7 yards per carry.

BETTER FIRST HALF

Hanretty said his troops functioned on offense better in the first half than the second. The Indians' coach said this week will be used to improve his offensive line's blocking. He said the Indians' defense was good all the way. The real yardage injuries in mass were from the boot of Bulldog Sovereign, said the mentor.

Rich Hamilton, offensive halfback for the first time Friday, and a defensive end was credited by Hanretty as playing "a real great game." Others mentioned by Hanretty were defensive linemen Ted and Fred Fellows, Steve Long and Elmer Collett.

Outfielder Signed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants have signed outfielder Jack Jones, 21, to a contract for a "small bonus." A spokesman said yesterday that Jones, who plays with the "San Francisco Rookies" in a league here, will play with Fresno of the Class C California league next spring. He stands 5-foot-11 and weighs 160 pounds.

Award To Santa Claran

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Santa Clara's halfback Jean Ashton was named Back of the Week yesterday by the Northern California Football Writers Assn. Chosen as Top Lineman was tackle Neil Laughlin of San Francisco State.

A Legitimate Ace

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—Harold Spieke, president of Rickrimmon Country Club, had a most appreciative audience for his hole-in-one.

Playing the 125-yard 7th with an 8-iron, Spieke scored an ace in a foursome consisting of Mrs. Spieke, A. H. Golden, chairman of the admissions committee, and Joseph Choyke, chairman of the house committee.

Records Show Fridays, Saturdays Better For Fishing Than Sundays

STEVENS

Just for kicks, I spent a few hours going over my records. I checked Sunday fishing in the Bay Area for the past two years. With but one or two exceptions the Sunday results were far below the Friday and Saturday preceding. An odd thing, isn't it?

I wrote this column at 4 p. m. Sunday. I had just finished checking my contacts. History repeated itself. It's like someone had turned off a spigot and stopped the flow of fish. There is a chance—a slim one, I'd say—that the late outgoing tide will be better, but up to now, it has been terrible.

So let's assume the Sunday slump was only a temporary thing and convince ourselves that tomorrow things will be popping again. It should be easy to so convince ourselves considering what happened Friday and Saturday on the Contra Costa side of the San Pablo Bay. Friday, in particular, was red hot. Just about every party boat and skiff came in with limits or near limits. Frank Joseph's "Henry" reported some of the best fishing of the entire year with Saturday running a close second. From Dowrelio's Resort and Harbor at Crockett, on Saturday.

Here's a partial score: Little Caesar, 8 limits to 10 pounds . . . Dowrelio No. 5, 27 bass on the morning trip and 12 in the afternoon . . . Harry Days No. 3, 15 limits to 10 pounds and 14 in the afternoon . . . Jackpot, 37 bass to 13½ pounds . . . Dowrelio No. 6, 15 to eight pounds . . . Zatta, 22 to 15 pounds and the Millie Linn, 27 to 12 pounds.

According to the Quans of China Camp the area near Cat Rock yielded some fair to good fishing on Friday and Saturday. On Saturday, B. Martini of San Rafael was high rod with a 19 pound striper.

Sid McMullin of Caruso's place at Sausalito reported a slow salmon fishing "perhaps ¾ of a fish per rod the past few days," he told me, then added that one boat, the Sea Wolf with Captain Ed Smith piloting, stopped on its way back from salmon trolling to try for striped bass. Came within two fish of landing limits all around.

Incidently, here are some congratulations to Skipper Louis Retlow of the Ma Ru. Louie took a day off to hunt ducks on Grizzly, came back with his legal limit of bull sprigs, and I say nice going.

Also congratulations to Harry Franke of Marin County fame, for the gorgeous wood duck he downed either today or yesterday. Harry also took a pair of bluebills. He is having the wood duck mounted, according to Joe Nerviani of Santa Venetia.

Joe reported William J. Moore taking a 20 and a five pound bass from the Pump House area on Saturday. Sergeant Cook and friend unloaded six stripers of lesser weights and Joe's brother, Carlo, had to be content with his one four pounder.

It still hasn't opened up for bass fishing in that section of the San Pablo, but if history repeats itself it won't be long now.

I spoke to Davis Campbell of the Golden Hinde spot at Inverness. Learned that just about all anglers who can get outside the bay have no trouble in getting heavy poundage of rockfish. Of interest is the report that Roland Staight and son, Captain Staight, landed a nine and a 13 pound striper off Middleton Point recently. Also Vern Stoller caught himself a mess of rockfish and a genuine silver salmon on the same trip. So, that's it for this time, see you later. So long.

Braves Coach Comments

Tomales High School got rocked last week by St. Helena. But in post-game comment head Brave coach Milton Castleberry said it wasn't all bad.

He praised the defensive work of end Don Russell of the Braves, the running and defending of Bill DiLana, and the work of linemen Wes Campigli, Al Petroni, Charles Purtle and Dick Aman. He also had good words for deep backs Ron Clark and Bob Fairbanks.

Tomales lost a lot of its strength when in the first period blocking back Pat Arnt suffered a broken nose and John Philipsheck, first string guard, was injured.

Castleberry felt his Braves should come up with a win against Cloverdale Nov. 10. In the meantime they play Kelseyville next Saturday and Clearlake Nov. 4.

RESPONSE!

Newspaper Advertising Brings Reader Response...through Buying Action!

More buying action results from newspaper advertising because of the atmosphere of believability. You've heard people say, "I know it's true, it's in the papers." The printed word has always been accepted as more honest and binding.

Newspapers report facts; other media offer entertainment. Your advertising in an atmosphere of believability is bound to induce more "want-to-buy" action than that framed in fiction or entertainment.

Newspapers offer another vital element—an atmosphere of timeliness and urgency. This sense of immediacy fosters "here-and-now" sales action that no other print medium can match.

If it's a question of consumer response—newspapers are the answer!

Dominican Troupers' 'The Lark' Planned

Lynn Harriman of Larkspur will star as Joan of Arc this weekend in the Dominican College Troupers' production of Jean Anouilh's "The Lark" in two public performances at 2:30 p.m. Sunday and at 8:15 p.m. Monday in Angelico Hall on the campus.

Miss Harriman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Harriman of Larkspur, is a senior speech and drama major at the college.

BELVEDERE RESIDENTS of long ago, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Oller, who now live in Woodmere, L. I., and arrived Wednesday for a visit in their old home town, are being entertained. Saturday night Mrs. Oller's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Welisch of Belvedere, gave a dinner for the visitors, and Sunday night another sister, Mrs. Margaret Wilson, also of Belvedere, gave a large cocktail party for the visitors. The Ollers resided in Belvedere until seven years ago. They lived a year in Philadelphia before moving to Long Island.

IN THEIR CORTE MADERA home again are Mr. and Mrs. Vern Lindburg. They visited their son, William Lindburg, and his wife, Nancy, in Bismarck, N. D., and her parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. I. Gilbert, in Fargo. They saw a church, office buliding and junior high school, constructed under Bill's design. He is affiliated with the Hillyer architectural firm of Bismarck. He is a graduate of Tamalpais High School, College of Marin, and the School of Architecture of the University of California. Nancy teaches art in the Bismarck Junior College and she and Bill are co-chairmen of the annual Bismarck Art Show to be held Nov. 2-5. Thursday Nancy addressed the state convention of kindergarten teachers in Minot.

The Lindburgs enjoyed the rich fall coloring as they traveled to Winnipeg via the great Red River Valley and home through the Minnesota Detroit Lakes country.

THE UCLA vs. Stanford game Saturday is bringing a large contingent of rooters from the Southland. A group of these will be weekend guests of Walter and Edythe Tait of Loch Lomond, both graduates of University of California at Los Angeles, where their romance began. Edythe's two brothers and their wives will be their guests; all four are graduates of the southern university and residents of Los Angeles. One brother, Harry L. Bosshard, is secretary-treasurer of the Pacific Natural Gas Exploration Co.; the other, C. Robert Bosshard, is an insurance broker. The three couples will attend the UCLA alumni cocktail party at the Fairmont Hotel after the game. The "southerners" will arrive Friday. An "outsider" spending the weekend at the Taits' will be Jeffrey Bosshard, a junior at Stanford University, son of Robert. Jeffrey, who is attending the university on a mathematics scholarship, rated second in college aptitudes tests.

NEW RESIDENTS of Marin are Mr. and Mrs. Angus Clark and their daughter, Karen, who came here several weeks ago from West Hartford, Conn. They lived there 15 years. Before that their home was in Berkeley. Angus, who is with Travelers Insurance Co., has been transferred to the San Francisco office, where he is manager of the inland marine department. The Clarks bought the Ross home of the John Sheridans, who retained a part of the land. They intend to build on it after the first of the year. The Sheridans will winter in Santa Barbara. Now Mrs. Sheridan is traveling in Mexico. John is with his brother, Neal, in Santa Barbara.

Karen, who attended St. Lawrence University in Canton, N. Y., is now a student at College of Marin.

Capitol Prepared

The nation's capital, apparently, is the best American city in which to become ill. The District of Columbia has the highest number of hospital beds per 1,000 population—17.9, followed by 14.0 in New York and 13.2 in Massachucetts.

Advertisers Find Women Baffling

NEW YORK — Advertising knows a lot about women, but still has a lot to learn, says an advertising executive.

"American women baffle American businessmen," says William J. Colihan, a vice president of an advertising firm. "We in the advertising business hold you (the women) to be one of our biggest continuing problems. We strive and struggle to really read you. We ponder and debate, we survey and research . . . and consult consultants and test markets. But we succeed only in inching along the way to insight."

Yet, the businessmen must keep trying to understand women, because it is the woman who spends most of the dollars spent in America, Colihan continued. Madison Avenue knows that almost "Nobody in the consumer field can be successful today without, like some cosmic Romeo, wooing and winning women." So, said Colihan, the research must go on.

Even though Colihan called women as "enigmatic as the Sphinx," he said "patient" research had brought to light these "secrets" about les girls.

"Women love to go out to dinner . . . but did you know that only one-third order something they don't have at home.

"Women are introspective and worried even when there's not much cause. Over half feel there's something wrong with them that even they themselves don't know what it is.

"A quarter of women think elevators are liable to fall with them—men almost never think of that.

"Women sometimes are remarkably accurate. Forty-nine per cent of women think they are overweight.

Taking Youngsters To Games Develops Family Camaraderie

Have you been going to football games this fall? I have. I fuss and stew about injuries. Somebody certtainly should. But football games give me a chance to have fun with my kids. I wouldn't miss 'em for anything.

Don't take 5 or 6-year-olds to watch football. They'll get tired and won't understand what's happening. But from 9 or 10 up, your youngsters will have the time of their lives. Your teen-agers won't want to sit with you. They'll prefer their own gang in the middle of the rooting section. You'd go crazy there, but you can take them to the games, and pick them up afterward.

To me the nicest time comes on the way home. We all have plenty to talk about. Wisecracks fly. Quarrels are forgotten. We're either happy or blue, depending on who won. But we feel close to each other, sharing an event. We stop at a drive-in for malts after the game. That's fun, too.

Our children see us as bosses, most of the time. We don't seem quite human to them. They need the chance to see us as pleasant companions and to feel camaraderie with us. Then they'll trust and love us. We need a chance to relax with them, too.

Football games aren't the only opportunities. Other sports are just as good, in their seasons. So are picnics, hikes, swimming expeditions, fishing jaunts—anything we really enjoy together.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My girl is 6. Her best friend has some new shoes. They are narrow and sharply pointed, like women's shoes. My daughter wants a pair just like them. Aren't such shoes hard on children's feet? Should I get them?"

T. O.

(A) I checked with several foot specialists. They got red in the face and shouted about the iniquities of narrow, pointed shoes for children. One man called them "a sin against young America." Another said they were "crippling atrocities" for growing children. Don't get them.

Refreshments and a question period will conclude the afternoon.

Pet Therapy

The family canine might eat you out of house and home but he's worth the expense. He's a cheap form of psychotherapy. Dr. Boris Levinson, of Yeshiva University's Psychological Center, reports that the house pet —particularly the dog—is more important to man psychologically than in any other way. He says the dog helps humans to fill needs for loyalty, trust, respect, obedience, and submission.

For Rainy Days

When it rains, you can keep a child occupied with homemade modeling clay. Just moiten a cup of salt and a cup of flour with water that has been tinted with food coloring.

Nose Papers Are Found Versatile

CHICAGO (UPI) — Paper towels and tissues are useful for a wide variety of household tasks. Here are some suggestions from one manufacturer.

Use lint-free paper towels for window washing. They're highly absorbent. Wonderful for cleaning mirrors and silver, too.

For a quick clean-up of ash trays, empty, then wipe out tray with tissues.

Sponge the leaves of indoor plants with tissues dipped in sudsy warm water and blot with dry tissue.

To avoid rinsing loose hairs down the drain after a shampoo, wipe the washbowl clean with two or three tissues. Loose hairs will cling to the damp tissues.

Blot ink stains with tissues before attempting to clean with detergent and water. Work carefully with the tissues, from the edges of the stain toward the center to prevent ink spread.

Whisk dirt out of hard-to-reach corners and carved furniture with a piece of tissue twisted around an orange stick.

State May Regulate The Potluck Dinner

SACRAMENTO —(CNS) — Community potluck dinners or church socials, as they've been known over the years, soon may be going the way of the horse and buggy and five-cent cigar.

A bill approved in the 1961 legislature, which revises the state's restaurant act, broadens the definition to include any organization or group which prepares food to be served to the public.

One attorney has said the law would apply if only one guest were present at such an affair.

The Dept. of Public Health said the bill not only extends sanitation requirements to cover potlucks but that it's high time they were brought under some regulation.

"This is not intended to prohibit potlucks but to control them," a spokesman said. "We've had quite a lot of food poisoning outbreaks from this type of operation. Why should they be allowed to operate any more unsanitarily than restaurants?"

POISONING CASES

The spokesman said there have been twice as many outbreaks of food poisoning this year as for the same period of 1960 and that year was considered a banner year. While he estimated the department obtained reports on only 1 to 2 per cent of all actual food poisoning cases, he said it was apparent there were somewhere between half a million and a million cases in California a year.

"As a pure guess, I'd say close to half of these cases result from some type of potluck affair," he said.

The spokesman called attention to the department's brochure, "Is Potluck Lucky?" He said this brochure outlined the danger foods at such gatherings such as potato, chicken or tuna fish salad.

Under the new law, the added list of establishments or organizations would be brought under the restaurant act. This would provide for inspection by local health officers and would require sanitation standards as set forth in the act.

The new list in the law includes any "private and public school cafeteria or eating establishment, in - plant or employee eating establishment, and any other eating establishment, organization, club, including veterans' club, boardinghouse, guesthouse or political subdivision, which gives, sells, or offers for sale, food to the public, guests, patrons, or employees as well as kitchens in which food is prepared on the premises for serving elsewhere."

The department spokesman admitted the new law might be subject to considerable interpretation on the local level.

"We are trying to eliminate those operations which are not entirely private," he said.

The spokesman said it was likely most local health officers merely would visit the churches or organizations serving food and caution them in the handling of certain dangerous foods.

"However, there may be some who will overstep their authority," he admitted.

The spokesman said it's believed the new law now covers every type of food preparation except that in the private home.

The bill cleared the legislatur this year with little notice and has produced some surprised persons and organizations when its effect became known. The subject matter was introduced first in 1957 and killed. It was studied by an advisory committee in 1958 but another version in 1959 was throttled in a senate committee.

Deer Park P-TA Halloween Event Planned Saturday

Dinner for the whole family will be one of the features of the Deer Park Halloween Festival Saturday on the school grounds. Food will be sold at booths from 5:30 p.m.

Games and entertainment features, which will begin at 6 p.m., will include movie cartoons for the very young and a bowling alley for the older girls and boys. A special addition this year will be a goat cart ride for the smaller children.

The costume parade begins at 7 o'clock with a Halloween memento for all. A special feature of the festival will be a bazaar offering all-new goods, including home-made foods and Christmas decorations and gifts.

Mrs. James Tovatt is festival chairman.

Wheeze Total

The Alergy Foundation of America estimates that up to four million Americans suffer from bronchial asthma. This form of asthma is a chronic allergic reaction in the bronchial tree. The foundation said it is most often found in persons with a family history of allergy, but it may develop gradually during a bronchial infection. It also may set in suddenly after exposure to an allergen.

Silver Choice

Contemporary elegance with sleek, sculptured contours and delicate ornamentation appear to be the trend in sterling flatware designs among future brides. The taste in selver is based on a study by the Sterling Silversmiths of America. In the study, conducted in 45 states, 70,000 high school graduates reported their pattern preferences.

Get A Plow

Single females might find cupid smiling on them if they take to the tractor and plow. Rural stretches apparently are fertile hunting grounds for unattached women. The Census Bureau, at least, reports there are 109 males for every 100 females in the American farm population.

Decorator Marion Heuer wants to bring back the old-fashioned music room — circa 19th century and complete with grand piano, harp and music stand. Miss Heuer said the musical cultural center has been lost to split level architecture.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 24, the 297th day of the year with 68 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1861, the first telegram was sent across the United States. California Chief Justice Stephen Field sent a message to President Abraham Lincoln in Washington, and the mayor of San Francisco sent a telegraphic message to the mayor of New York City.

In 1901, in a stunt to raise money to repay a loan due on her Texas ranch, Mrs. Anna Edson Taylor went over Niagara Falls in a barrel. She was the first person to survive such a stunt. The barrel was equipped with a harness and cushions, leading a reporter on the Denver Republican to quip that Mrs. Taylor "seems to be taking a lot of credit that belongs to the barrel."

A thought for today: Russian Communist leader Maxim Litvinov said: To strengthen the League of Nations is to abide by the principle of collective security——to abide by the principle that peace is indivisible."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Everyone Is Expert Player Of Bridge On A Tablecloth

Some of the best bridge plays are made on a tablecloth. You may go out for a bite after a session of bridge and somebody scribbles a bridge hand on the tablecloth while you're biting.

Opening lead — ♡ J

Today's hand was written on a tablecloth just a few inches north of a broiled lobster. Maybe that's why it wasn't counted in the official score of the tournament.

"I opened the jack of hearts," said the man with the pencil.

We all nodded and munched away.

"I won the next trick with the king of spades," he continued.

We nodded again.

"What should I lead now?" he asked.

EASY ANSWER: This was easy. "Lead a diamond, of course," said the man with the lamb chops.

Obviously West must set up two diamond tricks before declarer can draw trumps and run the clubs. The only hope is to get one spade, one club and two diamonds.

"You can't lead the deuce of diamonds," said the man with the pencil. "Dummy plays low, and the queen loses to the ace. Now you can get only one diamond trick."

We all nodded once more.

"You have to lead the ten of diamonds," he continued, shaking the pencil at the mashed potatoes. "Now you're sure of two diamond tricks no matter whether he puts up the jack or plays low from the dummy."

Perfectly true, of course. It's like leading the jack from K-J-9 through dummy's queen. The idea is to trap dummy's high card and preserve your own tenace over declarer's high card.

When the play becomes familiar and easy you can make it at the bridge table with the actual cards—instead of on a tablecloth with a pencil.

DAILY QUESTION: As dealer, you hold:
♠ A Q 9 8 5
♥ Q 6
♦ A 9 7
♣ 9 7 3
What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade. You have only 12 points in high cards, but it would be a shame to pass with so fine a spade suit. Borderline spade hands are worth a bid.

Sheriff Inspector Points Out Safety Hazard; Wins $10

Sheriff's inspector Harvey Teague won a $10 award from the county supervisors yesterday for calling a potential safety hazard to the attention of the county safety commission.

Teague pointed out that there is danger because of persons failing to watch for cars backing out of the parking lot at the court house, occupied by people with a lot on their minds such as the supervisors themselves.

"He has noted in numerous instances," said a safety commission letter of recommendation, "that people do not look where they are walking and a great number of them walk with their heads down."

So Teague's suggestion was that the sidewalk on either side of the lot entrance be painted "with stripes of a distinctive color to alert people to watch for cars."

U.S. Budget Blues

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you think you've had to raise your budget to allow for rising costs take a look at the federal budget. In the late 1940's, under President Harry S. Truman, it appeared that postwar spending would hold around 40 billion dollars. Present estimates suggest that federal spending will go into the range of 92 billion dollars to 94 billion for this fiscal year.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

1st Coast-To-Coast Telegram Tapped Out A Century Ago

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

One hundred years ago today a Morse telegraph operator in Sacramento tapped out a message for President Abraham Lincoln in Washington.

It was the first telegram ever sent coast to coast.

America was in the first year of civil war and the message came from California's chief justice, who said:

"California will stand by its government on the day of its trial."

Just a few hours earlier that day — Oct. 24, 1861 — the strands of wire had been linked across the nation, with the final gap closed in Salt Lake City for the company known as Western Union.

If Buffalo Bill Cody could have read, he would have read the handwriting on the wall that day. For it was soon to cost him his job as a Pony Express rider. The company—carrying letters from St. Joseph Mo., to California in 10 days at $8 apiece—soon went bankrupt.

It seemed—and it was—miraculous in those days to be able to send messages at the fabulous speed of 20 words a minute.

Back in 1860, telegraph lines had been strung only from the Atlantic to Omaha and from the Pacific as far east as Carson City, Nev. A 1,550-mile gap lay between them.

There were two big telegraph companies — Western Union and the American Telegraph Co. American Telegraph wanted to close the gap by a southern line going through Texas. Hiram Sibley, president of Western Union, wanted it further north.

Sibley prevailed and sent Edward Creighton, after whom Omaha's Creighton University is named, out to explore the territory. Lincoln warned Sibley that Indians would tear down the poles as Western Union put them up.

Creighton managed to persuade the Indians that the telegraph was the voice of Manitou, the great spirit, and should not be harmed. Then he marched west from Omaha with 400 armed men, 100 wagons and 500 oxen and mules. He set the first pole on July 4, 1861, and then advanced 10 to 12 miles a day until he had planted 25,000 poles by the time he reached Salt Lake City.

Joseph Gamble of the Overland Telegraph Co. marched east with a similar company until he reached Salt Lake City on Oct. 24, just a week after Creighton had got there.

DEATHS TOLD

'Wonder Drug' Seems Not So Wonderful

NEW YORK (UPI)—In disappointment and with sadness three physicians reported drug scientists have not yet succeeded in pulling the chemical fangs from the mind-energizing "wonder" drug, iproniazid. Physicians have great need for safe chemical mind-energizers with which to dose many people weighted heavily with depressions which yield to no reasoning nor other persuasion.

Iproniazid has the power to lift that kind of depression. But now and then it will also murder a liver. Drug scientists altered its molecule in various ways, hoping to retain the good and get rid of the evil.

The three English physicians, Drs. C. D. Holdsworth, Michael Atkinson and William Goldie, reported they had tried three of these altered molecules in patients and all three made sneak attacks on livers.

Four severely depressed patients were treated with them on seven occasions. In each instance the appearance of jaundice warned the doctors that the liver had been attacked. Three patients recovered when the drug was stopped but in the fourth the liver damage was irreversible and he died.

Iproniazid had two careers as a "wonder" drug. Its first fame was as an anti-tuberculosis agent but it soon was replaced by compounds even more effective. Upon tuberculosis patients it bestowed an extraordinary sense of personal well-being and thus launched its second career as mind-energizer.

But it wasn't long before it was becoming notorious medically as a liver-damager and occasionally, a liver-murderer. Measured against total numbers of persons for whom the drug was prescribed, these untoward liver reactions were few.

However, there was no reliable way for a physician to tell in advance which patients might have them. Iproniazid dropped out of general prescribing. And the drug scientists got busy making derivatives of its molecule.

The derivatives tested and found no less liver-oriented than iproniazid were pheniprazine, nialamide and phenelzine. Like iproniazid they all have a particular blocking action in brain chemistry.

They inhibit an enzyme which supervises the elaboration of complex compounds from a simple one. Theoretically when this enzyme is overly active, there is a wastage of several prime chemical regulators of the nervous system and a consequent and persistent mental depression.

The physicians, in reporting to the technical journal, The Lancet, said there was no clear reason why these compounds should attack the livers of a relatively few persons while leaving most liver alone. They could only assume it was due to the personal and unusual chemical state of the person in whom the liver attack occurred.

The liver damage caused by the compounds produces the same symptoms as the damage caused by the hepatitis virus, they said. "But in our experience the illness has been more severe and the jaundice has persisted or progressed for many weeks after the drugs have been discontinued."

"BUSINESS LAB"

helps boy's school work!

In school, Joe had always liked his lab courses. Of course he listens to the teacher's lectures, but what he enjoys most is learning for himself by doing. Now that he has become a newspaperboy, he has discovered another fine "lab course."

Having a business of his own—which requires the keeping of books, the handling of accounts, and the banking of profits—has been of practical help in math. His ability to meet and talk with people has made him the top public speaker in his class. What's more, through this "business lab" he has learned so well the importance of being punctual that he wasn't tardy for a single class last year! . . . If you are an ambitious young fellow who enjoys lab courses, here's your chance.

Moon Rocket Under Study

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A liquid rocket engine powerful enough to carry several men to the moon and enough equipment to bring them back alive is being studied by Aerojet General Corp.

The engine would generate up to 24 million pounds of thrust, the firm said yesterday.

That's enough to land a 130,000 pound missile on the moon or orbit a million pound satellite around the earth.

The Mail Finally Getting Through

PAISLEY, Ore. (AP) — Some residents of this southeastern Oregon village are getting back letters they mailed nearly 20 years ago.

Recently a contractor, hired to construct a new post office, found that some letters put into an old outside letter-drop had fallen between the post office walls.

Postal authorities said letters that cannot be delivered or returned will go to the dead letter office.

Purse, Money Taken

Jean MacGowan reported to Mill Valley police that her purse, containing $9 cash, her glasses and other articles, was taken from her car while it was parked in front of her home at 104 Eldridge Avenue, Sunday afternoon.

Astronomers at the Naval Observatory in Washington last saw the Milky Way in 1921.

TIBURON MAN TURNS SKIPPER—He had to fly 5,000 miles to do it, but Bramwell Fanning of Tiburon became skipper of a 72-foot, ocean-going schooner, the Lelantina, for a cruise off the Cote d'Azur. The yacht was chartered to Trans World Airlines for the 21st annual world travel congress of the American Society of Travel Agents, at which Fanning, manager of Carran Travel Bureau in San Francisco, was a delegate. He flew by jet to Cannes for the conference, then engaged the yacht for the cruise.

The salmon ordinarily eats voraciously but it eats nothing while migrating. Its digestive organs atrophy and by the time it finds the breeding ground, little remains but skin and bones.
